Presbyterians To Dedicate New Education Unit Sunday

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION BUILDING — Pictured on the right is the new Christian Education wing that has been completed at the Presbyterian Church. The 15-room structure is of split level design and becomes an integral part on the east side of the church proper. The construction project, which included extensive remodeling within the main edifice, was started last year.

The Presbyterian Church Sunday will dedicate its new Christian Education Building at 134 E. Mound St.

Dedication services will get under way at 3:30 p. m., with church officials and numerous special guests scheduled to take part. The general public also is invited to witness the event.

The observance will climax an extensive expansion and remodeling program undertaken several months ago. It marks the first building project of this nature at the church since 1901.

The new structure, enclosing 9,000 square feet of floor space, contains 15 rooms included are numerous classrooms, youth chapel, library, secretary's office, pastor's study, parlor, nursery room and toddler room.

LOCATED directly east and adjacent to the present church, the spacious brick building is of split level design. Its main entrance features the advantage of no steps to climb along with easy access from the rear.

In addition to the new education facility, the expansion and improvement project provided considerable remodeling at the church proper. The entire basement has been revamped and numerous rooms upstairs renovated to allow better utilization of space and lighting.

Dr. H. Grant Mason, general pastor for Central Ohio, will deliver the dedication epistle and prayer. Ford Adam, chairman of Columbus Presbytery, will offer remarks befitting the occasion.

The Rev. Ben Judd Jr., minister of the Chillicothe Presbyterian Church, will deliver the dedication sermon. "I Laid a Foundation." The scripture lesson will be read by the Rev. Robert A. Wiley minister at the First Baptist Church and president of the Pickaway County Ministerial Assn.

The Rev. Frederick Johnson, pastor of the St. Paul AME Church on S. Pickaway St., will present a solo, "Bless This House."

Invocation, a prayer for God's Divine presence and blessing and the Benediction will be offered by the Rev. Henry A. Walters, local Presbyterian minister. Anthems by the church's Junior and Senior Choirs will round out the program.

ANOTHER program highlight will be the official transfer of keys to the new structure. Participating will be James Bell of Belco, Inc., general contractor; Ralph Soulik of the Design Associates firm that handled architectural requirements; Dr. T. D. Harmon, chairman of the building committee; and Rev. Walters.

The planning phase for the new wing started in the fall of 1961. A fund-raising campaign was launched in 1964 and construction started in March of 1965. Actual occupancy of the structure was initiated the first Sunday of 1966.

The total construction project amounted to $123,000. Of this amount, approximately $20,000 was utilized for improvements in the church proper.

MEANWHILE, the Central Church located in a frame building on Main St. near Court, and was served by the Rev. George Wells. In 1853, the Rev. George Kalb became pastor and soon after led the dedication of a new brick church on E. Main St., now a part of the Noecker Building and home of Edstrom Motor Sales.

Both congregations reunited in 1882. Dr. James P. Stratton worked faithfully and fervently for 14 years to weld the two churches into one, and membership increased substantially.

The present church edifice, dedicated in 1901, was constructed under the ministry of the Rev. Frederick L. Bullard. He later became famous as Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and Lincoln scholar.

Alabama Woman Runs for Governor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Mrs. Ralph (Shorty) Price, whose husband has run unsuccessfully for public office several times, became the first woman in Alabama history to run for governor when she filed qualifying papers with Secretary of State Agnes Baggett.

Some politicians considered Mrs. Price's announcement Wednesday a takeoff on the possible candidacy of Gov. George Wallace's wife, Lurleen.

Mrs. Price issued a statement saying, "Shorty will be at my right hand and I'll consult him on everything" during the campaign with Mrs. Wallace as a speaker and adviser if she runs.

Retail Panel Draws Sales Event Plans

A new approach to scheduling sales promotion events was initiated today during a meeting of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

The plan calls for scheduling events for the first three months of this year. The panel, under the chairmanship of Ward Skinner, will meet at a later date to fix a promotional slate for the remainder of 1966 and the first three months of 1967.

The three-month carryover will eliminate the rush usually entailed in establishing a program for the entire year during January, as has been done in the past.

The retail committee, meeting for a breakfast session today at Noel's King Boy, set Feb. 3 as the first promotion for 1966. "Dollar Day" will be observed.

NEXT on the card will be a "Washington Birthday Sale", set for Feb. 22. A "Spring Opening" promotion has been set for Mar. 10.

Additional business included a discussion on downtown parking. Several suggestions and recommendations will be pursued.

'Cancer Cure' Jury Still Deliberating

CHICAGO (AP)—A U.S. District Court jury has spent more than 15 hours considering a verdict in the trial of four promoters of Krebiozen.

The jury of seven women and five men — faced with more than 18,000 pages of transcript from the 121 witnesses in 8½ months of testimony — deliberated from 9:25 a.m. until 10 p.m. Wednesday without reaching a decision.

The case involves Krebiozen, a drug the government says is worthless in the treatment of cancer. The proponents assert Krebiozen does have anticancer properties.

On trial are Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, 72, physiologist and chief sponsor of Krebiozen; Dr. Steven Durovic, 60, a Yugoslavian who developed Krebiozen; his lawyer-brother, Marko, 64; and Dr. William F. P. Phillips, 52, a Chicago physician who has administered the drug.

The jury must decide whether the defendants conspired to defraud the public and whether the drug was intentionally mislabeled.

The trial is the longest in the Chicago federal court history. It ends its ninth month Friday.

The defendants are charged in a 42-count indictment with mail fraud and conspiracy in the sale and promotion of Krebiozen.

Common Potato Slated To Be Placed in Orbit

DETROIT (AP)—A common potato that sells for pennies a pound is going to be carried into space soon by a multimillion-dollar rocket to search for what scientists hope will be a key to a biological mystery.

Hoping to discover that key, Space Defense Corp. in suburban Birmingham, Mich., in conjunction with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, plans to orbit the potato within the next two years.

The high-flying potato project has been christened "Spudnik."

Bruce Pinc, a biologist with Space Defense Corp., says "the possibilities of this thing are enormous. If Spudnik accomplishes what we expect, its potential in the study of the entire area of biological science is staggering."

Spudnik is designed to probe what Pinc calls the "riddle of biorythmicity, one of the five most important questions in biological science."

Pinc said biorythmicity describes the tendency of living organisms to become active at regular, predictable intervals.

"It's all very well to say sudden spurts of growth in adolescents are due to an increased presence of the growth hormone," said Pinc. "What we want to know is what stimulates the gland which produces the hormone and why the stimulation occurs."

Pinc said one school of thought contends clock-like mechanisms inside the cell control activity and that no outside forces influence stimulation of cells.

Another view says outside forces such as the sun, moon and gravity dictate variations in organic activity. The greatest problem in attempting to prove the theory has been the near impossibility of eliminating such outside forces in experimentation.

"By taking advantage of space we get away from the exertion of all earth-bound forces," Pinc said. "We have a virtually empty environment, and if standard biorythmicity occurs we can be relatively sure the cause is inside the cell."

But why a potato? Pinc says, "What's more simple than a potato? It is one of the most homogeneous masses existent."

Pinc and Dan Foster, another scientist, says results of their tests so far tend to back up the theory of outside influence on cellular activity. But they're not drawing any conclusions yet.

Widowed Mother of 8 Gives Her Views on War

MOUNT HOLLY, N.J. (AP)—It's not enough to send only young men to fight a war; someone older has to show them how, says a mother of eight children about the death of her husband in Viet Nam.

Mrs. Edward J. Cox, 36, said today she felt no bitterness that her husband was fighting in Asia although he had less than a year to go before retirement.

"It was his duty. He was one of the older ones. It's not enough to send the young soldiers. They have to have the older ones to show them how."

Staff Sgt. Cox, 35, was a platoon sergeant with the 327th Infantry Regiment, 101st Airborne Division and had been in Viet Nam eight months. A sniper's bullet killed him Monday. His family learned about it Tuesday, "just a little while after the children had taken a letter to him to the mailbox."

"We had a letter from him Tuesday, too," said Mrs. Cox. He was "looking forward to coming home. He said he had less than 100 days to go, and talked about what he'd do when he got home."

Now alone with her children, six sons and two daughters, aged 5 to 15, Mrs. Cox said she will remain here rather than return to her native Germany, where she met and married her GI husband 15 years ago.

"We're going to stay here. This is our first real home, and we had so many plans for it." Although her husband was a career soldier, Mrs. Cox said she never thought of death. "After he had been over there so long, I never thought he wouldn't come home." She said only the two oldest children "seem to realize he won't be coming home."

Mrs. Cox said "looking after eight children doesn't give you much time to think about it. If I didn't have the children, I don't know what I'd do."

Cox, 35, was a native of Jeanette, Pa., and left high school to join the Army in 1949. The couple was married in Heidelberg, Germany, when he was stationed there.

Moscow Radio Snipes at U.S.

Mott Death Case Still Simmering

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow Radio asserted today the U.S. Embassy had not exhausted bail or exchange possibilities in the case of Newcomb Mott and furnished the razor blade with which he cut his throat. The embassy called the account "a rather distorted version of the facts."

The broadcast said Mott, 27, received the razor blade in a package of personal effects from the embassy. An embassy spokesman retorted that the Russians still have not identified the instrument that made the fatal wound.

The embassy also showed irritation at the charge regarding bail and an exchange of prisoners. Mott, from Sheffield, Mass., died Jan. 20 on a Soviet train taking him from a Murmansk jail to a labor camp to complete an 18-month sentence for entering the Soviet Union illegally.

The spokesman declared the embassy had exhausted all possibilities in an attempt to get Mott released on bail.

The embassy has refused to accept or reject the Soviet suicide explanation pending the outcome of a full investigation promised by the Russians.

Moscow Radio said Mott was in a compartment of a prisoner train and had beat himself against the walls before cutting his own throat in a "state of violent nervous disorder."

Mott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mott, have said they think the Russians murdered their son.

The embassy, meanwhile, took possession of the body of Mott, a book company salesman arrested last Sept. 4. The body will be shipped home by plane Friday night.

Glowing Report Is Laced with Some Caution

President Believes 'Miracle' Can Run On Indefinitely

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson said today the nation has achieved the ability to ward off recessions, hold booms in bounds and keep an American economic miracle going in 1966.

Johnson attached a condition to this glowing outlook: wage and price decisions by labor and business must be "sound and responsible — just as I am determined that public decisions will be fully responsible."

"If they are," the President said, "the American economic miracle will remain in 1966 the single most important force in the economic progress of mankind."

This was in an 8,000-word message he sent to Congress along with the annual report of his Council of Economic Advisers.

The report was a bit less exuberant in language than the message. But sprinkled through both were sentences and phrases of unvarnished optimism, qualified here and there with a word of restraint or caution.

The forecasts are for more business, more jobs, more profits, more spending and what Johnson called a "strong thrust of progress."

The President said: "Our nation's industries, shops and farms — our workers, owners of business, professional men and women — prosper today far beyond the dreams of any people, anytime, anywhere."

The President made some other points:

"Recessions are not inevitable."

"We have learned how to achieve prosperity."

"Our prosperity does not depend on our military effort."

"Our defense needs are great; but our growth is far greater."

"In only seven other countries of the world is TOTAL output in a year as large as the INCREASE in our output last year."

"I am unwilling to declare a moratorium on our progress toward the Great Society."

"Expansion need not generate inflation."

Throughout the message and the economic report, nevertheless, there was repeated emphasis on holding the line against inflation.

Johnson told labor and industry, repeatedly and in various ways, that it is vitally important for them to follow guidelines set out by the three-man Council of Economic Advisers (Continued on Page 2)

Snow Staggers Virginia, Carolinas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A heavy snowstorm, termed by the Weather Bureau the biggest in years in the Middle Atlantic region, choked much of the region with wind-piled drifts today.

Virginia and the Carolinas were hard hit, and accumulations ranged up to 15 inches at Roanoke. Richmond was staggered with 14 inches of new snow and Washington, D.C., caught 3 inches during the night to find a 7-inch mantle today.

The Coast Guard at Portsmouth, Va., said the SS Sea Train New Jersey, carrying 39 crewmen and a cargo of truck trailers and railroad cars, was drifting in the choppy Atlantic off Cape Hatteras, N.C. The ship was located near the center of the Atlantic seaboard storm. The Coast Guard reported the 483-foot vessel said she was in no immediate danger.

At least two persons died in the third wintry assault on Virginia in less than two weeks — and the first to hit every area of the state.

As the snow began to taper off, state police and the Weather Bureau reported depths ranged to more than 16 inches and some drifts of 3 feet.

State police said chains or snow tires were required for auto travel anywhere in Virginia.

There was some snow over a 14-state area from northern Georgia to southern New England and the big disturbance brought Weather Bureau warnings of gales and high tides along the coast.

St. Mary's City, Md., on western Chesapeake Bay had 14 inches of snow. In North Carolina, Greensboro had 10 inches of cover.

Gale warnings were posted from Savannah, Ga., to Eastport, Maine, and the Weather Bureau said tides 2 to 4 feet above normal were expected to flood some low shore areas and bring some beach erosion from pounding of waves.

New Tactics Are Tried in Senate Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield switched to new tactics today — longer hours — in an attempt to counter the filibuster against the bill to prevent states from banning union shop contracts.

Mansfield called the senators in two hours earlier than usual to try to put some additional pressure on the tightly organized foes of the bill.

The same plan was tried unsuccessfully last fall in the initial Senate floor fight over the measure to repeal section 14B of the Taft-Hartley law.

Mansfield's problem is: He has the votes to pass the bill if it ever gets to a vote, but lacks the two-thirds majority it needed to choke off the filibuster.

Under Senate rules each member is entitled to two speeches on Mansfield's motion now before the Senate to take up the repeal bill.

But Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen says he has at least 25 foes of the measure organized into speaking teams against the motion.

Glowing Report Is Laced with Some Caution

President Believes 'Miracle' Can Run On Indefinitely

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today the nation has achieved the ability to ward off recessions, hold booms in bounds and keep an American economic miracle going in 1966.

Johnson attached a condition to this glowing outlook: wage and price decisions by labor and business must be "sound and responsible — just as I am determined that public decisions will be fully responsible."

"If they are," the President said, "the American economic miracle will remain in 1966 the single most important force in the economic progress of mankind."

This was in an 8,000-word message he sent to Congress along with the annual report of his Council of Economic Advisers.

The report was a bit less exuberant in language than the message. But sprinkled through both were sentences and phrases of unvarnished optimism, qualified here and there with a word of restraint or caution.

The forecasts are for more business, more jobs, more profits, more spending and what Johnson called a "strong thrust of progress."

The President said: "Our nation's industries, shops and farms — our workers, owners of business, professional men and women — prosper today far beyond the dreams of any people, anytime, anywhere."

The President made some other points: "Recessions are not inevitable." "We have learned how to achieve prosperity."

"Our prosperity does not depend on our military effort." "Our defense needs are great; but our growth is far greater."

"In only seven other countries of the world is TOTAL output in a year as large as the INCREASE in our output last year."

"I am unwilling to declare a moratorium on our progress toward the Great Society."

"Expansion need not generate inflation."

Throughout the message and the economic report, nevertheless, there was repeated emphasis on holding the line against inflation.

Johnson told labor and industry, repeatedly and in various ways, that it is vitally important for them to follow guidelines set out by the three-man Council of Economic Advisers.

Tribunal To Study Boy's Conviction

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The conviction of a Lancaster youth in the meat-cleaver, ice-pick killing of a woman grocer will be reviewed by the Ohio Supreme Court.

The court announced Wednesday it will hear the appeal of John Lincoln Carder, not quite 17 when Vanetta Brucker was murdered in her Lancaster store April 6, 1964.

Carder was sentenced to life in prison for premeditated murder and murder during a robbery.

His attorney contends authorities obtained a statement of guilt from the boy without allowing his parents and lawyers to see him until after nearly four hours of questioning. Counsel also said Carder was not taken directly to juvenile court.

High School Boy Loses Eye in Fuss

Michael Hudson underwent surgery at St. Vincent Charity Hospital in an effort to save his eye. He was reported in good condition Wednesday night.

Police said Michael identified his assailant as a girl classmate and said he thought he had been stabbed in the eye with a pen. Officers said the scuffle followed an incident in which Michael was said to have made remarks about the girl's clothing.

Cowboy Hats Bring Questioning by Police

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Hombrs wearing cowboy hats had a tough time of it poking around downtown New Orleans.

"Anybody we found with a cowboy hat, we questioned," said police Lt. Harold Foster.

To badmen—one in a 10-gallon hat—had robbed a clerk of 100 Wednesday.

Society Seeks Firmer Stand Toward Valued Buildings

A resolution requesting public officials to give added attention to action leading to removal or change of buildings of historical value was adopted during the Pickaway County Historical Society's annual meeting at the First Methodist Church.

Another key function during the session was the election of Rex E. Haacker as president of the County Society for 1966. A second resolution paid respect to the late Alice Ada May for her dedication to the society.

The resolution relative to buildings of monumental significance urges public officials to give proper notification to the Historical Society when removal or destruction of such structures is contemplated. The purpose is to allow time for a thorough review of proposed alterations and make the facts available for public discussion prior to taking official action.

In describing the historical values that bear strongly on the history and tradition of Pickaway County, the society's petition pointed out how in the interest of expediency, traditional, colorful and unique homes and public buildings have been demolished or changed with too little regard to those who created them.

THE SOCIETY authorized the resolution to be forwarded to public officials in the city and county.

Other officers elected to Haacker's staff were Mrs. Ray W. Davis, vice president; Mrs. Robert Adkins, recording secretary; Mrs. R. R. Bales, corresponding secretary; and M. E. Noggle, treasurer. Trustees are Miss Nelle Oesterle, Mrs. Martin Cromley, Mrs. Thomas Renick, Harford Renick, Dr. E. L. Montgomery, Dwight L. Steele, Mrs. Paul Cromley, Harry Montelius, Paul Johnson, Mrs. Robert A. Smith and Ralph Woolever.

The new president, a deputy state auditor who lives at 166 E. High St., outlined obligations of the society and achievements to strive for during the year. He also proposed a drive to increase membership.

Members were told that considerable work remains to be done in inventorying, classifying and identifying many valuable articles left to the society by the bequest of Miss May. A covered dish supper was enjoyed during the evening.

Glowing Report

headed by Gardner Ackley.

Designed to keep wage and price increases with noninflationary limits, the guidelines are pegged to increased productivity. The council — and it gets some arguments on this — figures that increase at 3.2 percent a year.

It specifically recommends sticking to that percentage and holding all boosts within that boundary.

"Perhaps our most serious economic challenge in 1966," he told Congress, "will be to preserve the essential stability of costs and prices which has contributed significantly to our balanced progress."

New requirements of the war in Viet Nam make it more difficult to keep prices stable, the President said. Again he warned of possible tax increases rather than more reductions.

"We know that we do not need to put our growing economy into a straightjacket, or to throw it into a reverse. But the extent of the fiscal or monetary restraint that will be needed to avoid inflationary pressures will depend directly on the restraint and moderation exercised by those who have power over wages and prices."

On the general economic outlook, Congress got word that the gross national product — the value of all the goods and services the country produces, should go up $46.5 billion this year. That would be just a shade short of the record $47 billion last year and would push the total to around $722 billion.

Again this year, spending on defense and on fixed investments of business — plants and equipment — is expected to be the main source of power for a continued economic surge.

Johnson foresees rising consumer incomes this year going largely into "expenditures for better living." With the national output at $722 billion he foresees an extra $40 billion for spending and production for civilian needs in 1966.

He also foresees unemployment shrinking below 4 percent, to the lowest rate since 1953. He predicts great advances in the productive capacity of industries and full use of it, without overuse or strain, to mark up good gains in output.

News of World in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk, looking harried and weary Wednesday, offered a congressional committee this bit of philosophy:

"The world is round. Only one-third of the human beings are asleep at any one time. And the other two-thirds are awake and up to some mischief somewhere."

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a move to increase the efficiency of its automatic canceling and facing machines, the Post Office Department is going to use glowing ink on postage stamps.

You won't be able to see the glow—not unless you use an ultraviolet light—but the postal system's 284 facing and canceling machines will.

The machines will automatically face all envelopes in the same direction, and cancel them at the rate of about 30,000 an hour, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien reports.

WASHINGTON (AP) — After giving thousands of disadvantaged youths hope through training, it's now up to the nation to see that they get jobs, a Job Corps official says.

David Squire, deputy director of the corps, says the Plans for Progress program will hold seminars in 25 cities to persuade industry to hire Job Corps graduates and trainees from other programs.

"They are going to be breathing down the country's neck," Squire said, "and we had better be providing them with job opportunities."

Plans for Progress is a voluntary group formed by more than 300 corporations.

ATHENS (AP) — The Greek government went into action today to counter transport and bakery strikes, but the garbage still wasn't being picked up and streets weren't swept.

The government mobilized striking bus and trolley workers in Athens and Piraeus. The first buses rolled after midnight.

The country's 20,000 bakers struck Wednesday night for six days, and the government ordered soldiers and policemen with baking experience to man the ovens.

A strike by municipal workers throughout the country is in its fourth day, but so far the government has taken no action in that field.

All the strikers want more pay.

LONDON (AP) — Author W. Somerset Maugham's will, made public Wednesday, leaves his secretary — companion Alan Searle the equivalent of $110,000, the contents of Maugham's French Riviera villa at Cap Ferrat, near Nice, and the income for life from copyrights on Maugham's works.

In recent years, Maugham's books were reported to have netted him the equivalent of $56,000 a year.

His only child, Lady Glendevon, was left her father's villa and income from trusts set up in the United States. Servants at the villa were bequeathed a total equivalent of $19,600.

AGRINION, Greece (AP) — A series of strong earth tremors rocked this central Greek tobacco town today.

Police reported five houses collapsed in a nearby village but there were no casualties.

ROME (AP) — Giovanni Pomponi, the man who drove his car up the steps of St. Peter's Basilica, is under observation in a mental clinic.

Police said no charges had been filed against the 37-year-old Italian but declined further comment. They referred questions to the Vatican, but the Vatican gendarmes said the matter was no longer in its hands.

Vatican City, an autonomous state, has its own jail but in accordance with its usual custom turned Pomponi over to Rome police after his car hurtled up the steps Tuesday evening. The car stopped at the entrance to the basilica.

GENEVA (AP) — President Johnson formally proposed today a seven-point program to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

The President acted in the face of escalating war in Southeast Asia and the possibility of acquiring atomic weapons by at least 10 nations in addition to the existing atomic powers.

In a message to the 17-nation disarmament conference opening in Geneva, Johnson urged that the atomic arms race be stopped and that existing stockpiles eventually be eliminated.

Pope Paul VI also sent an urgent appeal to the conferees to do their utmost to erase the spectre of war.

Johnson pledged to work for peace and disarmament "even while our own nation is engaged in necessary resistance to aggression in Southeast Asia."

"We must press on with our work in Geneva," the President's message said. "It is true that our meeting is shadowed by continuing aggression against the people and government of South Viet Nam."

"There are differences among the members of this conference on Viet Nam, but these differences make our common interest in preventing nuclear spread and curbing the nuclear arms race all the more important to pursue."

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's representative delivered the Pope's message at the resumption of the negotiations here today.

Society Seeks Firmer Stand Toward Valued Buildings

A resolution requesting public officials to give added attention to action leading to removal or change of buildings of historical value was adopted during the Pickaway County Historical Society's annual meeting at the First Methodist Church.

Another key function during the session was the election of Rex E. Haecker as president of the County Society for 1966. A second resolution paid respect to the late Alice Ada May for her dedication to the society.

The resolution relative to buildings of monumental significance urges public officials to give proper notification to the Historical Society when removal or destruction of such structures is contemplated. The purpose is to allow time for a thorough review of proposed alterations and make the facts available for public discussion prior to taking official action.

In describing the historical values that bear strongly on the history and tradition of Pickaway County, the society's petition pointed out how in the interest of expediency, traditional, colorful and unique homes and public buildings have been demolished or changed with too little regard to those who created them.

THE SOCIETY authorized the resolution to be forwarded to public officials in the city and county.

Other officers elected to Haecker's staff were Mrs. Ray W. Davis, vice president; Mrs. Robert Adkins, recording secretary; Mrs. R. R. Bales, corresponding secretary; and M. E. Noggle, treasurer.

REX E. HAECKER

The new president, a deputy state auditor who lives at 166 E. High St., outlined obligations of the society and achievements to strive for during the year. He also proposed a drive to increase membership.

Members were told that considerable work remains to be done in inventorying, classifying and identifying many valuable articles left to the society by the bequest of Miss May. A covered dish supper was enjoyed during the evening.

Local Chapter Of Campers To Organize

Paul West, national president of the National Campers and Hikers Assn., will be guest speaker at an open meeting 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Grange 4-H Building at the Fairgrounds.

West will be here to install a local chapter of the NCHA, which is the oldest and largest organization of its kind in the world. It is an educational, non-profit, family camping organization.

There are nearly 750 chapters, 35,000 family memberships with a total of about 100,000 people who participate in the group's activities.

Several Circleville area families have already been signed as members. Membership applications are now being accepted from the general public. Anyone with an interest in camping, is eligible for membership.

Also included in the program at Monday's meeting will be a discussion of trailer and travel trailer problems.

Glowing Report

headed by Gardner Ackley.

Designed to keep wage and price increases with noninflationary limits, the guidelines are pegged to increased productivity. The council — and it gets some arguments on this — figures that increase at 3.2 percent a year.

It specifically recommends sticking to that percentage and holding all boosts within that boundary.

"Perhaps our most serious economic challenge in 1966," he told Congress, "will be to preserve the essential stability of costs and prices which has contributed significantly to our balanced progress."

New requirements of the war in Viet Nam make it more difficult to keep prices stable, the President said. Again he warned of possible tax increases rather than more reductions.

"We know that we do not need to put our growing economy into a straightjacket, or to throw it into a reverse. But the extent of the fiscal or monetary restraint that will be needed to avoid inflationary pressures will depend directly on the restraint and moderation exercised by those who have power over wages and prices."

On the general economic outlook, Congress got word that the gross national product — the value of all the goods and services the country produces, should go up $46.5 billion this year. That would be just a shade short of the record $47 billion last year and would push the total to around $722 billion.

Again this year, spending on defense and on fixed investments of business — plants and equipment — is expected to be the main source of power for a continued economic surge.

Johnson foresees rising consumer incomes this year going largely into "expenditures for better living." With the national output at $722 billion he foresees an extra $40 billion for spending and production for civilian needs in 1966.

He also foresees unemployment shrinking below 4 percent, to the lowest rate since 1953. He predicts great advances in the productive capacity of industries and full use of it, without overuse or strain, to mark up good gains in output.

News of World in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk, looking harried and weary Wednesday, offered a congressional committee this bit of philosophy:

"The world is round. Only one-third of the human beings are asleep at any one time. And the other two-thirds are awake and up to some mischief somewhere."

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a move to increase the efficiency of its automatic canceling and facing machines, the Post Office Department is going to use glowing ink on postage stamps.

You won't be able to see the glow—not unless you use an ultraviolet light—but the postal system's 284 facing and canceling machines will.

The machines will automatically face all envelopes in the same direction, and cancel them at the rate of about 30,000 an hour, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien reports.

WASHINGTON (AP) — After giving thousands of disadvantaged youths hope through training, it's now up to the nation to see that they get jobs, a Job Corps official says.

David Squire, deputy director of the corps, says the Plans for Progress program will hold seminars in 25 cities to persuade industry to hire Job Corps graduates and trainees from other programs.

"They are going to be breathing down the country's neck," Squire said, "and we had better be providing them with job opportunities."

Plans for Progress is a voluntary group formed by more than 300 corporations.

ATHENS (AP) — The Greek government went into action today to counter transport and bakery strikes, but the garbage still wasn't being picked up and streets weren't swept.

The government mobilized striking bus and trolley workers in Athens and Piraeus. The first buses rolled after midnight.

The country's 20,000 bakers struck Wednesday night for six days, and the government ordered dered soldiers and policemen with baking experience to man the ovens.

A strike by municipal workers throughout the country is in its fourth day, but so far the government has taken no action in that field.

All the strikers want more pay.

LONDON (AP) — Author W. Somerset Maugham's will, made public Wednesday, leaves his secretary - companion Alan Searle the equivalent of $110,000, the contents of Maugham's French Riviera villa at Cap Ferrat, near Nice, and the income for life from copyrights on Maugham's works.

In recent years, Maugham's books were reported to have netted him the equivalent of $56,000 a year.

His only child, Lady Glendevon, was left her father's villa and income from trusts set up in the United States. Servants at the villa were bequeathed a total equivalent of $19,600.

AGRINION, Greece (AP) — A series of strong earth tremors rocked this central Greek tobacco town today.

Police reported five houses collapsed in a nearby village but there were no casualties.

ROME (AP) — Giovanni Pomponi, the man who drove his car up the steps of St. Peter's Basilica, is under observation in a mental clinic.

Police said no charges had been filed against the 37-year-old Italian but declined further comment. They referred questions to the Vatican, but the Vatican gendarmerie said the matter was no longer in its hands.

Vatican City, an autonomous state, has its own jail but in accordance with its usual custom turned Pomponi over to Rome police after his car hurtled up the steps Tuesday evening. The car stopped at the entrance to the basilica.

The tower was added to the present edifice during Dr. Tappan's pastorate. He was succeeded in 1914 by Dr. Cyrus B. Beckes who later organized the Boy Scout movement in Circleville.

In 1937, the Rev. Robert T. Kelsey became pastor and served until 1943. His departure led to the calling of the Rev. Carl L. Kennedy who served until his untimely death in 1946.

THE REV. Donald Mitchell assumed the pastorate here in 1947 and served for 14 years.

Under his guidance the edifice was extensively remodeled in the 1950s, the rotation system for elders was introduced and the New Curriculum was adopted by the Sunday School.

The Rev. Henry A. Walters became pastor in 1961 and has guided the church through the building program that will be commemorated Sunday.

Playing a prominent role in the present expansion have been the ruling offices of the church. Serving for 1965 were Sterling Croman, George McDowell, Dr. Charles Hull and Ted Steele. For 1966 they are E. G. Grigg, Charles Irish, Larry Varble and Lemuel Weldon. The panel for 1967 is composed of Paul Butz, Wes Edstrom Sr., Phil Hines and Robert Jones.

Johnson Offers 7-Point Plan To Halt A-Spread

GENEVA (AP) — President Johnson formally proposed today a seven-point program to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

The President acted in the face of escalating war in Southeast Asia and the possibility of acquiring atomic weapons by at least 10 nations in addition to the existing atomic powers.

In a message to the 17-nation disarmament conference opening in Geneva, Johnson urged that the atomic arms race be stopped and that existing stockpiles eventually be eliminated.

Pope Paul VI also sent an urgent appeal to the conferees to do their utmost to erase the spectre of war.

Johnson pledged to work for peace and disarmament "even while our own nation is engaged in necessary resistance to aggression in Southeast Asia."

"We must press on with our work in Geneva," the President's message said. "It is true that our meeting is shadowed by continuing aggression against the people and government of South Viet Nam."

"There are differences among the members of this conference on Viet Nam, but these differences make our common interest in preventing nuclear spread and curbing the nuclear arms race all the more important to pursue."

U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant's representative delivered the Pope's message at the resumption of the negotiations here today.

Sukarno Builds Luxury Towers in Sea of Slums

EDITOR'S NOTE — The writer of this dispatch was for 18 months AP correspondent in Indonesia. Last week he was expelled from the country by President Sukarno, along with other correspondents of American news media.

By ANTOINE YARED

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — A modern 10-story department store has just been completed in Jakarta's main street. Nearby a 29-story office building is under construction. Opposite is the luxurious 15-floor Hotel Indonesia.

These tall buildings seem like strange icebergs surrounded by a sea of slums and dilapidated streets.

Jakarta is Indonesia's capital city, with a population of three million, but in many respects it looks like a worn-down village.

President Sukarno ordered monuments and high buildings despite the country's need of more urgent projects — such as housing.

Sukarno maintains that these showy pieces of construction are needed to present Indonesia's greatness.

His hard-pressed people accepted the argument.

But lately thousands of students have demonstrated in Jakarta streets to protest against soaring prices of essential commodities. They criticized the policies of "the great leader of the Indonesian revolution."

Development Pays Off

ALMADEN, Spain (AP) — Spain's economic development program seems to be having an effect here. Farmer Vincente Castellanos reported harvesting a clove of garlic which weighed seven ounces.

tion," as Sukarno likes to call himself.

Day after day, the students — with the tacit approval of the army which is engaged in a power struggle with Sukarno — shouted:

"We need rice — not monuments and big buildings!"

The students even scribbled on the walls:

"No more imports of wives and concubines."

Sukarno's third wife is a Japanese.

Sukarno, in an angry speech, denounced the students' attitude. "Monuments are equally important as rice!" he shouted.

Indonesian critics of Sukarno say that he is unaware of the reality of economic conditions prevailing in the country because his aides don't inform him fully.

Sukarno judges the situation superficially, these critics say, but fails to see what is beneath the surface.

He observed recently: "With my own eyes I saw ordinary Indonesian people buying flowers in preparation for the Moslem feast of Idu Tiftri. This alone is enough proof to kill propaganda that the Indonesia people are poor."

The critics say Sukarno does not realize how rising prices of essential commodities are hitting the low-income Indonesians.

With the recent increase in their salaries, an average civil servant gets about 50,000 old rupiahs monthly. He has allowances for rice and some food stuffs, but sometimes these are not enough to meet the needs of a large family.

One liter of rice has shot to 5,000 old rupiahs. It cost 310 last June. A shirt costs 30,000, a pair of shoes 45,000.

In his recently published autobiography, Sukarno says Indonesians inherited a broken-down country from the Dutch colonizers 20 years ago. Sukarno recounts that the Dutch before leaving wrecked the palace of the former Dutch governor general which he now uses as his presidential mansion. The furniture was broken, the glass windows and the mirrors, and even the door locks were smashed, Sukarno says.

Over the years, Sukarno beautifully repaired his palace. But he has failed to repair his country.

American's Body Due To Be Returned

MOSCOW (AP)—The body of Newcomb Mott, the young American who died while serving a Soviet prison term, will be returned to the United States this weekend, the U. S. Embassy said.

Mott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mott of Sheffield, Mass., asked the embassy to send the body home. The spokesman said the embassy expects no difficulty in taking possession of the body from the Russians.

Mott, 27, died last Thursday on a Soviet train taking him from a jail in Murnansk to a labor camp. He was serving an 18-month sentence for entering the Soviet Union illegally.

Soviet officials said he killed himself by cutting his throat. They promised a full investigation.

The spokesman said the embassy was still waiting for further reports on the investigation. An autopsy Monday, attended by the American embassy doctor, left several questions unanswered. Among them were:

1. Identification of the instrument that made the fatal wound. It was not produced at the autopsy.

2. Explanation of cuts on Mott's wrists, elbows, stomach and neck and how these cuts fit in with the official Soviet explanation of suicide.

3. How Mott managed to administer a cut in his own throat five inches wide.

Sukarno Builds Luxury Towers in Sea of Slums

EDITOR'S NOTE — The writer of this dispatch was for 18 months AP correspondent in Indonesia. Last week he was expelled from the country by President Sukarno, along with other correspondents of American news media.

By ANTOINETTE YARED

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — A modern 10-story department store has just been completed in Jakarta's main street. Nearby a 29-story office building is under construction. Opposite is the luxurious 15-floor Hotel Indonesia.

These tall buildings seem like strange icebergs surrounded by a sea of slums and dilapidated streets.

Jakarta is Indonesia's capital city, with a population of three million, but in many respects it looks like a worn-down village.

President Sukarno ordered monuments and high buildings despite the country's need of more urgent projects — such as housing.

Sukarno maintains that these showy pieces of construction are needed to present Indonesia's greatness.

Hishard-pressed people accepted the argument.

But lately thousands of students have demonstrated in Jakarta streets to protest against soaring prices of essential commodities. They criticized the policies of "the great leader of the Indonesian revolution."

Development Pays Off

ALMADEN, Spain (AP) — Spain's economic development program seems to be having an effect here. Farmer Vincente Castellanos reported harvesting a clove of garlic which weighed seven ounces.

himself," as Sukarno likes to call himself.

Day after day, the students — with the tacit approval of the army which is engaged in a power struggle with Sukarno — shouted:

"We need rice — not monuments and big buildings!"
The students even scribbled on the walls:
"No more imports of wives and concubines."

Sukarno's third wife is a Japanese.

Sukarno, in an angry speech, denounced the students' attitude. "Monuments are equally important as rice!" he shouted.

Indonesian critics of Sukarno say that he is unaware of the reality of economic conditions prevailing in the country because his aides don't inform him fully.

He observed recently: "With my own eyes I saw ordinary Indonesian people buying flowers in preparation for the Moslem feast of Idu Tiftri. This alone is enough proof to kill propaganda that the Indonesia people are poor."

The critics say Sukarno does not realize how rising prices of essential commodities are hitting the low-income Indonesians.

With the recent increase in their salaries, an average civil servant gets about 50,000 old rupiahs monthly. He has allowances for rice and some food stuffs, but sometimes these are not enough to meet the needs of a large family.

One liter of rice has shot to 5,000 old rupiahs. It cost 310 last June. A shirt costs 30,000, a pair of shoes 45,000.

In his recently published autobiography, Sukarno says Indonesians inherited a broken-down country from the Dutch colonizers 20 years ago. Sukarno recounts that the Dutch before leaving wrecked the palace of the former Dutch governor general which he now uses as his presidential mansion. The furniture was broken, the glass windows and the mirrors, and even the door locks were smashed, Sukarno says.

Over the years, Sukarno beautifully repaired his palace. But he has failed to repair his country.

PRESIDENT LYNDON JOHNSON tells of a day when his brilliant political career was just dawning and he was seeking to win favor with his rural Texas audience by emphasizing the beauties of its landscapes. Insult to Ev Dirksen

The propaganda put out by the high command of the AFL-CIO speaks of "heading into the year 1966 prepared to battle for the repeal of Taft-Hartley Section 14 (b) with every weapon at its command."

The whole strange story hinges on the allegation that Everett Dirksen, the Republican Minority Leader in the Senate, offered to withdraw his opposition to a repeal of the so-called "right to work" provision of Taft - Hartley in exchange for a guarantee of labor support for a Constitutional amendment that would allow one house of a state legislature to be elected on a basis of geographical representation instead of in accordance with "one man, one vote."

Even assuming that politics is frequently a matter of rising above principle, it stands to reason that no trade could have been contemplated in the atmosphere of late 1965 and early 1966. For during the period of Congressional recess Dirksen was busy making speeches all over the country on behalf of both his pet projects. The basic Dirksen formula has been to defend Section 14(b) and his amendment on legislative reapportionment as two examples of sacred states' rights. But, significantly, the Dirksen promise to stand fast on 14(b) always got a far greater measure of applause than his plea for overriding the Supreme Court on the reapportionment issue.

As an old campaigner, wise in the possibilities of politics, Dirksen could hardly have missed the point. Speaking to a packed audience the other day at the National Limestone Institute annual meeting in Washington, D.C., almost on the very eve of the reopening of the Congressional fight on 14(b), Dirksen heard the rafters ring when he defended states' rights to local legislation on voluntary unionism. He got only perfunctory applause on his reapportionment argument. His audience included a good number of Senators. This was the final seal on what he had learned from his previous appearances in places as far apart as Kansas and New York and before such organizations as the NAM and the National Grange.

PARENTS KILLED—Jerry Lee Sanderson, 15, wanted in Slippery Rock, Pa., in the slaying of his parents, is led from jail in Whitehall, Wis., by Sheriff Eugene Bjoid.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

My husband has been wearing a set of upper and lower dental plates for 11 years. Despite the fact that they are loose and do not fit properly he insists on repairing them himself with a "home kit." He says one set is enough to last a lifetime. Can't this affect his health?

Mrs. A.B.R., Virginia

Dear Mrs. R.: Eleven years need not necessarily be the life of a wellfitted pair of dentures. It is unreasonable for him to assume that one pair will last forever. Changes do take place along the gum line and in the bones of the jaw that loosen dentures that once fitted perfectly.

A most unfortunate, over the counter, direct mail, "do it yourself" denture kit has flooded the market and is exploiting the unwary purchasers. These kits contain dental plate liners that can be dangerous.

Dr. Theodore Berg and his dental colleagues have shown that severe bone loss in the jaw is a serious effect of these hard denture liners.

They claim that irreparable damage can occur after the use of these home techniques. They point out that the damage to the mouth structure can be so great that professional dental reconstruction is often made impossible.

Your husband and thousands as gullible as he have fallen into this trap of dental - kit quackery.

There can be no market substitution for the excellent training of his dental surgeon.

Digestion begins in the mouth. Good health most certainly depends on good dentition.

I am 15 years old with a terrible problem. I weigh 150 pounds, and I have stretch marks on my hips and breasts. If I go on a diet will the marks get worse? I cannot talk to anyone about this. I want to get rid of these marks and don't know where to turn.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tina Louise, the voluptuous castaway of "Gilligan's Island," will be married April 3 to Les Crane, the undaunted two-time loser of ABC's Nightlife show.

Miss Louise reported the news at rehearsals for this week's Red Skelton show.

"We were going to get married March 20, which is the first anniversary of when we met," explained the actress, who had performed a dance in a negligible costume. "But so many of my friends will be in Europe at that time that we postponed the wedding until April."

The wedding will be the first for Miss Louise, the student of New York's Neighborhood Playhouse and Actors Studio who first achieved fame as Appassionata Von Climax in "Li'l Abner" on Broadway. Crane was married once before.

The pair met in a modern manner — at a discotheque.

"It was at the Daisy Club last year," Miss Louise recalled. "I was coming in and he was going out. He was with Paddy Chayefsky, whom I know and adore, and Paddy introduced me to Les. Somehow they found a reason to return to the Daisy that night, and we talked until 4 a. m."

"Then I suggested they come to my house for breakfast, and we talked some more. But I must admit that I was more interested in talking to Paddy than Les."

The changed that Crane is one of the country's highest paid talkers, having starred twice in ABC's answer to Johnny Carson. He was putting in his second tour of duty with the late-night show while courting Tina.

"It was crazy," she remarked. "I was here doing 'Gilligan's' and he was stuck in New York doing 'Nightlife.' Every other weekend I'd fly to New York to see him, and on the other weekend he'd fly here to see me. Once I had only one day off, but I went to New York anyway."

The travel situation was eased when his show was shifted to Hollywood. But once again the show succumbed to low ratings.

He plans to work in Hollywood, since Tina will be stranded on "Gilligan's Island" for at least another season.

The World Today

By BARRY SCHWEID (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress could have saved the Supreme Court a lot of trouble last year.

But it chose to pass the buck instead, and so the nine justices are wrestling with a problem as old as this country: Is the right to vote fundamental or does it spring from the states?

To the Justice Department "the franchise is a fundamental right implicit in the First Amendment's guarantees of political expression and in other provisions of the Constitution as well."

To the state of Virginia "it is a state-created right" and one of the few "vestigial rights" of the state in an era of increasing federal power.

These historical arguments go to the heart of the justices' current problem — passing on the constitutionality of the Virginia poll tax.

Their decision may, for all practical purposes, finally put the old arguments to rest.

If the court rules that the state may not tie a head tax in with voting, much of the emotion will have been squeezed out of the arguments.

But the court can reach a narrower decision — or toss the problem back into the laps of lower courts.

When Congress wrote the voting rights law last year it had a lot to say about poll taxes.

According to section 10: They impose unreasonable financial hardships upon poor people; they do not bear a reasonable relationship to conduct of elections; in some areas they deny the right to vote because of race.

Further, Congress directed the attorney general to go to court to test state laws which make payment of a poll tax a precondition to voting.

But Congress did not outlaw the poll tax as a qualification for voting in state elections — as the 24th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution did in 1964 for federal elections.

And so the poll tax as a voting qualification remains on the books in Virginia, Alabama, Texas, Mississippi and Vermont.

Because it does, U.S. Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall told the Supreme Court this week, thousands of newly registered Negroes in Mississippi and Alabama who did not pay their poll tax still won't be able to vote.

The poll tax, he said, is "the one weapon remaining" to bar them.

But is the poll tax aimed at Negroes or at any group of people? George D. Gibson, a learned Richmond attorney, said Virginia's tax is not.

"It does not discriminate against a race any more than a marriage license or an auto license of fixed amount," he said. "These taxes are neutral on race, creed, color and sex."

Constitutional or not? A weapon of discrimination or a reasonable sort of test to ensure an intelligent electorate? Questions now for the highest court in the land to ponder.

Non-Democratic Plans Lacking in 'Total Answer'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Followers of communism, fascism, and other non-democratic ideologies are seeking an answer to life but will be let down because the only total answer is the Kingdom of God, Dr. E. Stanley Jones, world missionary, says.

How Weather Looks Today

CENTRAL OHIO — Cloudy, windy and colder with occasional snow flurries tonight and Friday. Low tonight near zero. High Friday 18.

NORTHWEST OHIO — Variable cloudiness with snow flurries through Friday. Windy tonight. Colder tonight and Friday, high 16-22. Low tonight 5 above to 5 below.

SOUTHWEST OHIO — Tonight variable cloudiness, windy and colder with a few slight snow flurries, low 5 below zero to 5 above. Friday partly cloudy and cold, high 17-23. Saturday fair and continued cold.

SOUTHEAST OHIO — Cloudy, windy and colder with occasional snow flurries through Friday. Low tonight near zero to 6 above. High Friday 18-23.

Dr. Jones said the concluding session of the 47th Ohio Pastors Convocation here Wednesday night:

"The rise of fascism, Nazism, and communism show an urge for a total answer to the total life. They will let men down and there will be one total answer left—the Kingdom of God."

His talk ended the three-day convocation which drew 2,000 clergy of all denominations from churches throughout the state. The sessions were sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches.

Dr. Jones said that once when he spoke in Germany, there was pounding on the benches and that he didn't know whether they were for or against him.

"At the close, they came to me and said I was the only man who had come to post-war Germany who seemed to sense why they turned to Nazism.

He quoted the Germans as saying: "We wanted something that would bring all life into coherence and meaning. Life was compartmentalized at loose ends. . . . What we really were after was the Kingdom of God."

Earlier, the clergymen heard Bishop John J. Carberry of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Columbus who said there are many areas of common heritage in which all faiths can work in the ecumenical movement.

"There are many fields in which mutual cooperation is possible, such as the honor and glory to be given God and the strong and determined forces of atheism.

He said that to what extent "the great chasms of the differences between us" can be bridged "rests in the providence of God." But he added that "He is all powerful and it was the wish of our Lord and savior at the Last Supper that we should be one."

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tina Louise, the voluptuous castaway of "Gilligan's Island," will be married April 3 to Les Crane, the undaunted two-time loser of ABC's Nightlife show.

Miss Louise reported the news at rehearsals for this week's Red Skelton show.

"We were going to get married March 20, which is the first anniversary of when we met," explained the actress, who had performed a dance in a negligible costume. "But so many of my friends will be in Europe at that time that we postponed the wedding until April."

The wedding will be the first for Miss Louise, the student of New York's Neighborhood Playhouse and Actors Studio who first achieved fame as Appassionata Von Climax in "Li'l Abner" on Broadway. Crane was married once before.

The pair met in a modern manner — at a discotheque. "It was at the Daisy Club last year," Miss Louise recalled. "I was coming in and he was going out. He was with Paddy Chayefsky, whom I know and adore, and Paddy introduced me to Les. Somehow they found a reason to return to the Daisy that night, and we talked until 4 a. m."

"Then I suggested they come to my house for breakfast, and we talked some more. But I must admit that I was more interested in talking to Paddy than Les."

The changed that Crane is one of the country's highest paid talkers, having starred twice in ABC's answer to Johnny Carson. He was putting in his second tour of duty with the late-night show while courting Tina.

"It was crazy," she remarked. "I was here doing 'Gilligan's' and he was stuck in New York doing 'Nightlife.' Every other weekend I'd fly to New York to see him, and on the other weekend he'd fly here to see me. Once I had only one day off, but I went to New York anyway."

The travel situation was eased when his show was shifted to Hollywood. But once again the show succumbed to low ratings. He plans to work in Hollywood, since Tina will be stranded on "Gilligan's Island" for at least another season.

Non-Democratic Plans Lacking in 'Total Answer'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Followers of communism, fascism, and other non-democratic ideologies are seeking an answer to life but will be let down because the only total answer is the Kingdom of God, Dr. E. Stanley Jones, world missionary, says.

How Weather Looks Today

CENTRAL OHIO — Cloudy, windy and colder with occasional snow flurries tonight and Friday. Low tonight near zero. High Friday 18.

NORTHWEST OHIO — Variable cloudiness with snow flurries through Friday. Windy tonight. Colder tonight and Friday, high 16-22. Low tonight 3 above to 5 below.

SOUTHWEST OHIO — Tonight variable cloudiness, windy and colder with a few slight snow flurries, low 3 below zero to 5 above. Friday partly cloudy and cold, high 17-23. Saturday fair and continued cold.

SOUTHEAST OHIO — Cloudy, windy and colder with occasional snow flurries through Friday. Low tonight near zero to 6 above. High Friday 18-23.

Dr. Jones told the concluding session of the 47th Ohio Pastors Convocation here Wednesday night:

"The rise of fascism, Nazism, and communism show an urge for a total answer to the total life. They will let men down and there will be one total answer left—the Kingdom of God."

His talk ended the three-day convocation which drew 2,000 clergy of all denominations from churches throughout the state. The sessions were sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches.

Dr. Jones said that once when he spoke in Germany, there was pounding on the benches and that he didn't know whether they were for or against him.

"At the close, they came to me and said I was the only man who had come to post-war Germany."

Many who seemed to sense why they turned to Nazism.

He quoted the Germans as saying: "We wanted something that would bring all life into coherence and meaning. Life was compartmentalized at loose ends."

What we really were after was the Kingdom of God."

Earlier, the clergymen heard Bishop John J. Carberry of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Columbus who said there are many areas of common heritage in which all faiths can work in the ecumenical movement.

"There are many fields in which mutual cooperation is possible, such as the honor and glory to be given God and the strong and determined forces of atheism."

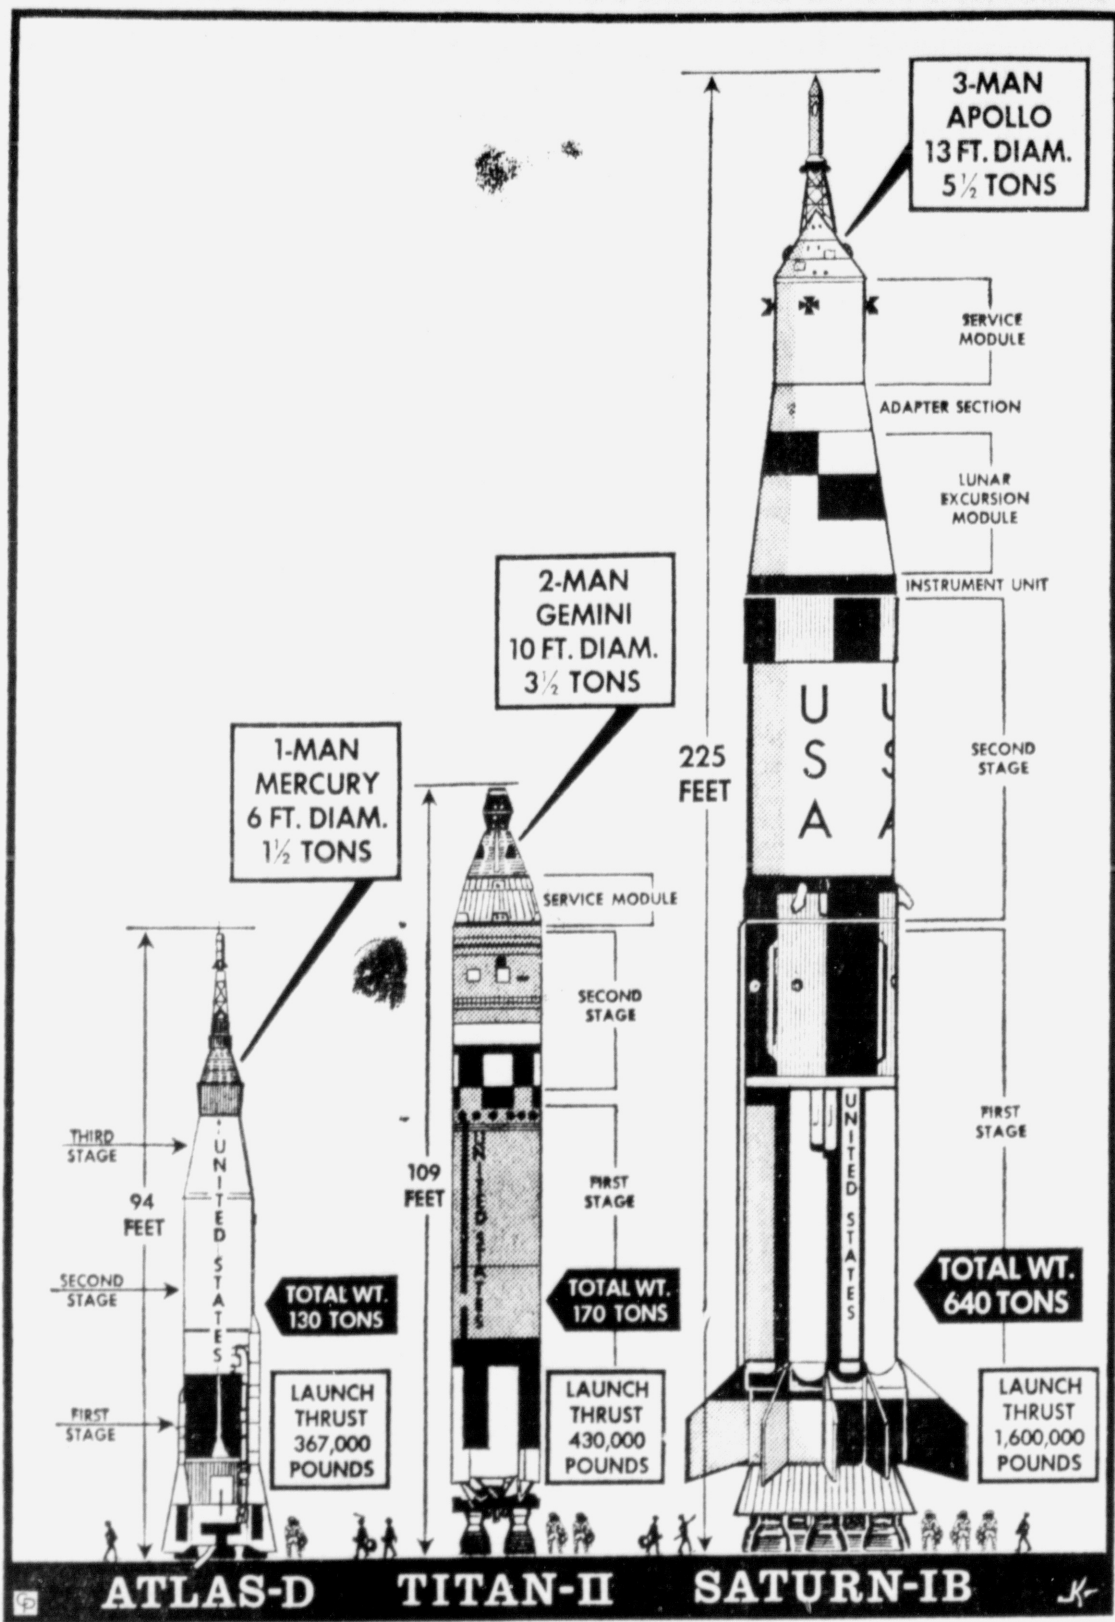

He said that to what extent "the great chasms of the differences between us" can be bridged "rests in the providence of God." But he added that "He is all powerful and it was the wish of our Lord and savior at the Last Supper that we should be one."

The World Today

By BARRY SCHWEID
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress could have saved the Supreme Court a lot of trouble last year.

But it chose to pass the buck instead, and so the nine justices are wrestling with a problem as old as this country: Is the right to vote fundamental or does it spring from the states?

To the Justice Department "the franchise is a fundamental right implicit in the First Amendment's guarantees of political expression and in other provisions of the Constitution as well."

To the state of Virginia "it is a state-created right" and one of the few "vestigial rights" of the state in an era of increasing federal power.

These historical arguments go to the heart of the justices' current problem — passing on the constitutionality of the Virginia poll tax.

Their decision may, for all practical purposes, finally put the old arguments to rest.

If the court rules that the state may not tie a head tax in with voting, much of the emotion will have been squeezed out of the arguments.

But the court can reach a narrower decision — or toss the problem back into the laps of lower courts.

When Congress wrote the voting rights law last year it had a lot to say about poll taxes.

According to section 10: They impose unreasonable financial hardships upon poor people; they do not bear a reasonable relationship to conduct of elections; in some areas they deny the right to vote because of race.

Further, Congress directed the attorney general to go to court to test state laws which make payment of a poll tax a precondition to voting.

But Congress did not outlaw the poll tax as a qualification for voting in state elections — as the 24th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution did in 1901 for federal elections.

And so the poll tax as a voting qualification remains on the books in Virginia, Alabama, Texas, Mississippi and Vermont.

Because it does, U.S. Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall told the Supreme Court this week, thousands of newly registered Negroes in Mississippi and Alabama who did not pay their poll tax still won't be able to vote.

The poll tax, he said, is "the one weapon remaining" to bar them.

But is the poll tax aimed at Negroes or at any group of people? George D. Gibson, a learned Richmond attorney, said Virginia's tax is not.

"It does not discriminate against a race anymore than a marriage license or an auto license of fixed amount," he said. "These taxes are neutral on race, creed, color and sex."

Constitutional or not? A weapon of discrimination or a reasonable sort of test to ensure an intelligent electorate? Questions now for the highest court in the land to ponder.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

It's a Strong Odor!

DEAR ABBY: I have been married only three weeks and already I have a problem. I work in a warehouse and we aren't allowed to smoke on the job, so I chew tobacco. Doing heavy work, I sweat a lot. When I come home from work and go to hug and kiss my bride, she pushes me away and says, "Go brush your teeth and take a shower; you smell terrible!" How is that for a wel-come home?

I say if she really loved me she wouldn't care how I smelled. She says if I really loved HER I wouldn't come near her smelling like that. A big fight follows, and even after I clean up I wouldn't go near her if she got on her knees and begged me to.

So it's been five days and I haven't gone near her. Am I wrong, or is she?

BIG JOE
DEAR JOE: You're wrong. She loves you, but tobacco breath and perspiration are enough to wither any passion flower. So in the future, when you come home from work, head straight for the shower. Scrub up and wash out your mouth. (And a little men's deo-derant and cologne wouldn't hurt, either.) Then take her your arms and see what kind of welcome you get.

Berger Guild Holds Session

Berger Hospital Guild No. 20 met Tuesday in the American Red Cross headquarters, 167 Watt St. There were 13 mem-bers and one guest, Mrs. Eldon Delong, present.

Mrs. Fred Overly, chairman, conducted the business meeting. She read a thank you letter from the General Guild.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Roloff Wolford and Mrs. Ronald Young.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 22 at Pickaway Arms.

Elizabeth Circle Plans Meet Tuesday

Elizabeth Circle of Trinity Lutheran Church will meet 1:30 p. m. Tuesday in the church parlor.

Ruth Circle Meet Planned Wednesday

Ruth Circle of Trinity Lutheran Church will meet 2 p. m. Wednesday in the parish house.

Sarah Circle Meet Slated Wednesday

Mrs. Christian Schwarz, 147 Watt St., will be hostess for the meeting of Sarah Circle of Trinity Lutheran Church 9:15 a. m. Wednesday.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 18 years to a won-derful woman. We have no children at home. I own my own business, and give my wife $100 weekly for her own personal use while I pay for all the bills. Here is the problem: Although we live in a 15-room house with nine bedrooms, my wife allows her mother, who is in excellent health, to be in a "rest home." I have asked my wife many times to bring her mother here to live with us. Her only excuse is that she will "upset the smooth running of our home." This is a laugh. There is nothing to do here, and my wife has help. If it were MY mother, I would insist that she live with us. But because it is my wife's mother I feel my wife should make the offer. She reads your column. Perhaps you can awaken her to her re-sponsibility.

BEWILDERED
DEAR BEWILDERED: Con-sider the mother. She will prob-ably be much happier at the rest home than living with a daughter who doesn't really want her.

DEAR ABBY: For years I had a wart on my finger. It did not bother me much except if I'd catch it on something. Then it would bleed. But it never re-ally hurt me or anything like that. Well, I was at a neighbor's one afternoon and her mother was visiting there. She noticed the wart on my finger and told me if I wanted to get rid of it I should tie three knots in a piece of string and bury it in my back yard. And when the string rot-ted, my wart would go away. Abby, I did what she told me to do, and within three weeks my wart was gone. How can you explain this? Nobody believes me.

SYLVIA
DEAR SYLVIA: There is no scientific explanation for some of the "cures" that seem to work. The removal of warts is a medical problem. There's no harm in burying a piece of string in the yard, providing one doesn't bury the string IN-STEAD of seeing a doctor.

DEAR ABBY: Re the letter from the woman who complain-ed that her 25-year-old brother is able-bodied, intelligent and unemployed. She said he lives at home, sleeps 'til noon, plays pool all day and tells his par-ents he is job hunting. His moth-er buys his clothes and pro-vides him with a car and spend-ing money. The mother was ad-vised to throw him out, but she won't. The letter was signed, "A U S - GESPIELT," which means "all played out" in Ger-man. Our 22-year-old son re-cently returned from Viet Nam and landed a job in one week. He has no car, buys his own clothes and pays board and room. Would you please send him the address of "A U S - GESPIELT'S" mother? He'd like to move in.

Woman Named Assistant Conductor of Orchestra

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Every-body tried to talk Sylvia Caduff out of her dream of conducting symphony orchestras.

A woman looks ungainly on a podium, they told her in her home town of Chur, Switzer-land.

How could she get the men in the orchestra to take her direc-tion, asked friends in Lucerne where she was studying piano. What audience would treat her seriously?

As a clincher they always ended triumphantly: Name just one woman conductor on the staff of a major symphony or-chestra.

Now the slim brunette has an answer: Sylvia Caduff, with the New York Philharmonic, an assistant conductor to Leonard Bernstein.

"I'm so happy, so happy," she says, which just about takes care of her working English vo-cabulary at the moment. She hopes to be proficient, though, by next fall when her stint in New York begins.

Sylvia, 28, was a piano teach-er in Lucerne—a fine profes-sion for a woman, everybody thought—until she came to New York early in January for the Dimitri Mitropoulos Interna-tional Competition.

"I brought my little fur lion along," she said through an in-terpreter. "I had it with me when I was studying conducting in Berlin at the conservatory and with Herbert von Karajan from 1962-64. I think it brings me luck."

She also carried the baton she had used in reaching the finals in a couple of international conducting competitions in Italy and Denmark. She would rather borrow someone's toothbrush than use another baton.

The Mitropoulos competition started with 34 contestants from 18 countries, including two women—Sylvia and one from Peru.

Only Sylvia and six young young men survived the finals, in Carnegie Hall before a ca-pacity crowd.

After the jury of distinguished conductors made their decisions Jan. 17, Bernstein announced the results. Sylvia was one of the four first-place winners.

Two nights later, after the four conducted the New York Philharmonic in Philharmonic Hall Bernstein announced their new posts: Three, including Syl-via, would assist him with the Philharmonic next season, the fourth would go to Washington's National Symphony.

Next fall Sylvia should bright-en the New York music scene considerably. She rarely uses makeup, and with her 5-foot-boyishly slim figure, brown eyes and dark hair cut in a short pageboy, she could be called winsomely cute — a description that would horrify her if she understood it in English.

She is an intense, no-non-sense, talented professional — from the expert way she han-dles the baton. "You use it as an extension of the arm, in the right hand for tempo; the left hand is for expression") to her demure long black dress, pur-posefully unobtrusive so as not to distract from the orchestra and music.

While some masculine con-ductors may stomp, gyrate and flail the air, Sylvia maintains an easy graceful stance.

Although she gets along fine with male colleagues, she's not overly eager to get married right away.

"I'm always in love," she says. But she's not engaged.

And when the string rotted, my wart would go away. Abby, I did what she told me to do, and within three weeks my wart was gone. How can you explain this? Nobody believes me.

SYLVIA

DEAR SYLVIA: There is no scientific explanation for some of the "cures" that seem to work. The removal of warts is a medical problem. There's no harm in burying a piece of string in the yard, providing one doesn't bury the string INSTEAD of seeing a doctor.

DEAR ABBY: Re the letter from the woman who complained that her 25-year-old brother is able-bodied, intelligent and unemployed. She said he lives at home, sleeps 'til noon, plays pool all day and tells his parents he is job hunting. His mother buys his clothes and provides him with a car and spending money. The mother was advised to throw him out, but she won't. The letter was signed, "AUS - GESPIELT," which means "all played out" in German. Our 22-year-old son recently returned from Viet Nam and landed a job in one week. He has no car, buys his own clothes and pays board and room. Would you please send him the address of "AUS - GESPIELT'S" mother? He'd like to move in.

Woman Named Assistant Conductor of Orchestra

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Every body tried to talk Sylvia Caduff out of her dream of conducting symphony orchestras.

A woman looks ungainly on a podium, they told her in her home town of Chur, Switzerland.

How could she get the men in the orchestra to take her direction, asked friends in Lucerne where she was studying piano. What audience would treat her seriously?

As a clincher they always ended triumphantly: Name just one woman conductor on the staff of a major symphony orchestra.

Now the slim brunette has an answer: Sylvia Caduff, with the New York Philharmonic, an assistant conductor to Leonard Bernstein.

"I'm so happy, so happy," she says, which just about takes care of her working English vocabulary at the moment. She hopes to be proficient, though, by next fall when her stint in New York begins.

Sylvia, 28, was a piano teacher in Lucerne—a fine profession for a woman, everybody thought—until she came to New York early in January for the Dimitri Mitropoulos International Competition.

"I brought my little fur lion along," she said through an interpreter. "I had it with me when I was studying conducting in Berlin at the conservatory and with Herbert von Karajan from 1962-64. I think it brings me luck."

She also carried the baton she had used in reaching the finals in a couple of international conducting competitions in Italy and Denmark. She would rather borrow someone's toothbrush than use another baton.

The Mitropoulos competition started with 34 contestants from 18 countries, including two women—Sylvia and one from Peru.

Only Sylvia and six young women survived the finals, in Carnegie Hall before a capacity crowd.

After the jury of distinguished conductors made their decisions Jan. 17, Bernstein announced the results. Sylvia was one of the four first-place winners.

Two nights later, after the four conducted the New York Philharmonic in Philharmonic Hall Bernstein announced their new posts: Three, including Sylvia, would assist him with the Philharmonic next season, the fourth would go to Washington's National Symphony.

Next fall Sylvia should brighten the New York music scene considerably. She rarely uses makeup, and with her 5-foot-boyishly slim figure, brown eyes and dark hair cut in a short pageboy, she could be called winsomely cute—a description that would horrify her if she understood it in English.

She is an intense, no-nonsense, talented professional—from the expert way she handles the baton. "You use it as an extension of the arm, in the right hand for tempo; the left hand is for expression" to her demure long black dress, purposefully unobtrusive so as not to distract from the orchestra and music.

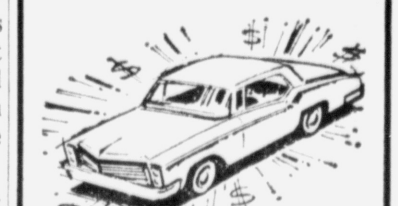

While some masculine conductors may stomp, gyrate and flail the air, Sylvia maintains an easy graceful stance.

Although she gets along fine with male colleagues, she's not overly eager to get married right away.

"I'm always in love," she says. But she's not engaged.

Enlistment Rule Protects US. Draft Pool

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new order restricting enlistment of draftees in the National Guard and Reserves is aimed at halting the siphoning of men available for filling draft quotas, defense officials said today.

The Guard and Reserves have other manpower sources available to them without drawing on youths already tapped for induction, the officials said.

This was the explanation given in response to questions about a Selective Service bulletin instructing local draft boards that young men under orders for induction no longer shall be allowed to sign up for the Guard and Reserves.

By joining the Army Guard or Reserves, a young man can escape two years of active duty. Instead, he serves only from four to 10 months in uniform getting his basic training and then, as a civilian, performs the remainder of his obligation, totaling six years, by drilling with his Guard or Reserve unit.

The Selective Service bulletin, distributed last week, permits cancellation of induction orders only for youths enlisting in the regular Army, Navy, Marines or Air Force.

The Defense Department said: It was recognized "that Selective Service boards had some problem in their pipeline process with people scheduled for induction who were siphoned off by enlistment into the Reserve-Guard, while on the other hand there are otherwise adequate manpower supplies for fulfilling Reserve-Guard requirements."

Currently, there was a backlog of 94,000 young men awaiting their four to 10 months of basic training after signing up with the Guard and Reserve.

Until that backlog eases many of these young men will undergo no training other than a sort of stopgap drilling provided by their Guard or Reserve units.

The backlog results from the heavy increase in the regular Army. Recruits for the regular service have priority in training at the various bases, leaving relatively few spaces for Guard and Reserve enlistees.

Weekly Food Review

NEW YORK (AP)—Pork is precious and beef is booming. So home economists are advising shoppers to choose less popular, cheaper variety cuts such as liver, heart and tongue.

Word from the cattlemen is hardly encouraging. John H. Guthrie of Porterville, Calif., told the American National Cattlemen's Association convention in Kansas City this week beef was going to be more scarce and more expensive.

He said although 5 per cent more beef was slaughtered last year, it provided 3 per cent less meat because there was less fattening of the animals at feedlots.

Pork prices have touched the highest point in 17 years, and run into consumer resistance. Housewives used chicken instead, then the supply of chickens dwindled and prices rose.

It is not only meat prices that are up.

The federal government has started selling surplus corn in an attempt to hold prices down.

Father, Son YMCA Group To Be Formed

"To foster the companionship of father and son" is the purpose of the YMCA Indian Guides being organized at a meeting on Tuesday at Circleville High School, according to a spokesman for the Y-group.

The meeting, slated to begin at 7:30 p. m., is open to any boy between the ages of six and eight years and his father. Included in the meeting will be the showing of a film on the Y-Indian Guides, craft and Indian lore displays, Indian dancing and games.

The Suburban Branch of the Columbus YMCA in cooperation with the Gahanna-Reynoldsburg Long House will be hosts for the local organizational meeting. The Suburban Branch is also the sponsoring organization for the CHS Hi-Y Club. This group meets twice a month with David LaBounty as adviser and Bruce Barnes as president of the club.

Indian Guides meetings are held bi-monthly in the homes of members, where the fathers and sons participate in a program designed by their own club.

Programs usually include crafts, games, singing, working on tribal projects, hikes and summer campouts at a YMCA camp.

Savings Bond Sales Listed

Savings Bond sales in Pickaway County during December were $45,874, according to Kenneth F. Fosnaugh, county Savings Bonds chairman.

The county attained 78.1 per cent of its yearly sales goal with total bond sales of $629,187 in 1965, Fosnaugh said. He noted that Ohioans now hold approximately $3.2 billion in U.S. Savings Bonds.

December sales of Series E and H Bonds were $24.3 million in Ohio. Ohio residents purchased a total of $298 million in bonds during 1965. This represents 96.2 per cent of the state's yearly goal.

Operation Crime Stop Is Paying Off

CHICAGO (AP) — A housewife looked out a window of her Southwest Side home and saw two men hovering near a garage in the dusk of an autumn evening. She telephoned PO 5-1313.

A police squad, alerted by radio, arrived quickly. The men fled. The officers fired a warning shot, collared them and retrieved the loot from a burglary of a nearby house.

Within a week during the recent Christmas-New Year period, calls from three different persons provided police with information for raids on two lottery games and a house where narcotics were stored on the South Side.

Those are examples of how the Chicago Police Department's "Operation Crime Stop" functions.

Supt. O. W. Wilson started it April 13, 1964, with an appeal to all citizens to report crime or suspicion of crime.

"Crime is everyone's business," he said. "We want to enlist the eyes and ears of all Chicagoans."

"Citizens reporting incidents to police," he said, "can remain anonymous if they desire."

Thousands of calls have been made since then. A report on the first 21 months shows that the telephoned tips resulted in 5,273 arrests. They involved such offenses as robbery, rape, burglary, shoplifting, pocket picking, auto theft, purse snatching and deceptive practices.

Phase II of the program begun in October 1964, is aimed at bringing in organizations, business firms, public utilities and governmental agencies by asking their top officials to pledge the aid of their members and workers.

"We have more than 500,000 citizens pledged to support Operation Crime Stop," Wilson said.

Phase III, started Jan. 11, seeks cooperation of citizens in cracking down on narcotics, gambling, prostitution and the high-interest loan racket — sources of income for hoodlums and the enduring Chicago crime syndicate.

Wilson, in an over-all review of the police and public partnership, said it has been successful. It helped, he said, to reduce crime rates in 1964 and 1965.

Kansas City, Mo., provides another indicator. A similar project called Crime Alert will be started there Feb. 1.

LBJ's Withholding Tax Proposal Seen Modified

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposal for graduated withholding of personal income taxes probably will be modified to reduce the bite on middle-and upper-bracket paychecks before the legislation goes to the House floor.

This was the outlook today as the House Ways and Means Committee resumed hearings on Johnson's $4.8-billion tax package, of which graduated withholding is a part. Major components of it are a reimposition, for two years, of automobile and telephone excise taxes that had dropped Jan. 1 and a speedup in corporate tax collections.

Graduated withholding, like the corporate tax speedup, does not increase the amount of tax paid. It is designed to put collections more nearly on a pay as you go basis, so that fewer make-up payments would be required at the end of the year.

However, the schedule prepared by the Treasury and written into the bill has come under fire on the ground it calls for too much withholding from higher-income taxpayers, with the result that many of these would have to apply for refunds and would have money tied up without earning interest.

Republican members of the committee first raised this objection. A check today indicated substantial sentiment on the Democratic side also for adjustment of the withholding schedule.

The Treasury's own explanation of the bill concedes that the number of taxpayers in the $10,000-a-year and above income brackets who have too much tax withheld would be increased by the terms of the measure. Some critics say the effect would reach as far down as the $5,000 bracket.

The Treasury estimates that, of the 9 million taxpayers who file returns under the present system on incomes of $10,000 a year or more:

— 2.9 million have too much withheld from their paychecks. This number would increase to 5 million under the new system.

— 5.7 million now do not have enough withheld. This number would decrease to 3.4 million. — 400,000 approximately break even. This group would increase to 600,000.

On the other hand, the Treasury says the changes it backs would greatly reduce the over-withholding of tax from lower-bracket taxpayers, relieving 12.6 million in the under $5,000 bracket and 2.6 million in the $5,000-$10,000 bracket.

NEW YORK (AP)—Pork is precious and beef is booming. So home economists are advising shoppers to choose less popular, cheaper variety cuts such as liver, heart and tongue.

Word from the cattlemen is hardly encouraging. John H. Guthrie of Porterville, Calif., told the American National Cattlemen's Association convention in Kansas City this week beef was going to be more scarce and more expensive.

He said although 5 per cent more beef was slaughtered last year, it provided 3 per cent less meat because there was less fattening of the animals at feedlots.

Pork prices have touched the highest point in 17 years, and run into consumer resistance. Housewives used chicken instead, then the supply of chickens dwindled and prices rose.

It is not only meat prices that are up.

The federal government has started selling surplus corn in an attempt to hold prices down.

Father, Son YMCA Group To Be Formed

"To foster the companionship of father and son" is the purpose of the YMCA Indian Guides being organized at a meeting on Tuesday at Circleville High School, according to a spokesman for the Y-group.

The meeting, slated to begin at 7:30 p. m., is open to any boy between the ages of six and eight years and his father. Included in the meeting will be the showing of a film on the Y-Indian Guides, craft and Indian lore displays, Indian dancing and games.

The Suburban Branch of the Columbus YMCA in cooperation with the Gahanna-Reynoldsburg Long House will be hosts for the local organizational meeting. The Suburban Branch is also the sponsoring organization for the CHS Hi-Y Club. This group meets twice a month with David LaBounty as adviser and Bruce Barnes as president of the club.

Indian Guides meetings are held bi-monthly in the homes of members, where the fathers and sons participate in a program designed by their own club. Programs usually include crafts, games, singing, working on tribal projects, hikes and summer campouts at a YMCA camp.

Astronaut To Undergo Surgery on His Arm
SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—Astronaut M. Scott Carpenter says surgeons probably will have to remove a callus from his left arm before he can be considered for another space flight.

One of the seven original astronauts, Carpenter broke an arm in a motorcycle accident in 1964 in Bermuda. He said the accident caused a callus to form on the bone just below the elbow.

"The doctor is not too confident it (the surgery) will work and I'm not too confident the doctor will do it," he said in an interview Monday.

Operation Crime Stop Is Paying Off

CHICAGO (AP)—A housewife looked out a window of her Southwest Side home and saw two men hovering near a garage in the dusk of an autumn evening. She telephoned PO 5-1313.

A police squad, alerted by radio, arrived quickly. The men fled. The officers fired a warning shot, collared them and retrieved the loot from a burglary of a nearby house.

Within a week during the recent Christmas-New Year period, calls from three different persons provided police with information for raids on two lottery games and a house where narcotics were stored on the South Side.

Those are examples of how the Chicago Police Department's "Operation Crime Stop" functions.

Supt. O. W. Wilson started it April 13, 1964, with an appeal to all citizens to report crime or suspicion of crime.

"Crime is everyone's business," he said. "We want to enlist the eyes and ears of all Chicagoans."

"Citizens reporting incidents to police," he said, "can remain anonymous if they desire."

Thousands of calls have been made since then. A report on the first 21 months shows that the telephone tips resulted in 5,273 arrests. They involved such offenses as robbery, rape, burglary, shoplifting, pocket picking, auto theft, purse snatching and deceptive practices.

Phase II of the program begun in October 1964, is aimed at bringing in organizations, business firms, public utilities and governmental agencies by asking their top officials to pledge the aid of their members and workers.

"We have more than 500,000 citizens pledged to support Operation Crime Stop," Wilson said.

Phase III, started Jan. 11, seeks cooperation of citizens in cracking down on narcotics, gambling, prostitution and the high-interest loan racket — sources of income for hoodlums and the enduring Chicago crime syndicate.

Wilson, in an over-all review of the police and public partnership, said it has been successful. It helped, he said, to reduce crime rates in 1964 and 1965.

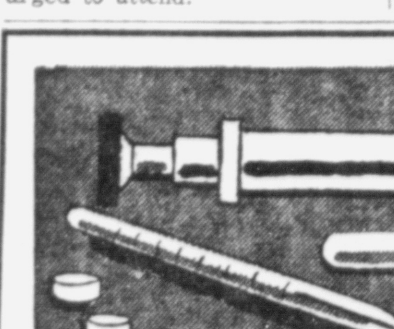

Kansas City, Mo., provides another indicator. A similar project called Crime Alert will be started there Feb. 1.

LBJ's Withholding Tax Proposal Seen Modified

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposal for graduated withholding of personal income taxes probably will be modified to reduce the bite on middle-and upper-bracket paychecks before the legislation goes to the House floor.

This was the outlook today as the House Ways and Means Committee resumed hearings on Johnson's $4.8-billion tax package, of which graduated withholding is a part. Major components of it are a reimposition, for two years, of automobile and telephone excise taxes that had dropped Jan. 1 and a speedup in corporate tax collections.

Graduated withholding, like the corporate tax speedup, does not increase the amount of tax paid. It is designed to put collections more nearly on a pay as you go basis, so that fewer make-up payments would be required at the end of the year.

However, the schedule prepared by the Treasury and written into the bill has come under fire on the ground it calls for too much withholding from higher-income taxpayers, with the result that many of these would have to apply for refunds and would have money tied up without earning interest.

Republican members of the committee first raised this objection. A check today indicated substantial sentiment on the Democratic side also for adjustment of the withholding schedule.

The Treasury's own explanation of the bill concedes that the number of taxpayers in the $10,000-a-year and above income brackets who have too much tax withheld would be increased by the terms of the measure. Some critics say the effect would reach as far down as the $5,000 bracket.

The Treasury estimates that, of the 9 million taxpayers who file returns under the present system on incomes of $10,000 a year or more:

— 2.9 million have too much withheld from their paychecks. This number would increase to 5 million under the new system.

— 5.7 million now do not have enough withheld. This number

Saltcreek Grange Program Set

Paul Dunkle, lecturer of Saltcreek Valley Grange, has announced the theme of Feb. 7 program will be, "Our Growing Grange."

Dunkle will conduct discussions about the offices in the Grange and the theme for the current year. At the last meeting the attending members were given "homework" for this meeting and Dunkle urges members to return the papers so they can be used as a part of the program.

The lecturer reminds members that the meeting place has been changed to the Grange building on the Fairgrounds instead of the regular meeting room at the school. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m.

On the other hand, the Treasury says the changes it backs would greatly reduce the over-withholding of tax from lower-bracket taxpayers, relieving 12.6 million in the under $5,000 bracket and 2.6 million in the $5,000-$10,000 bracket.

Ohio C of C Lists County's Tax Burden

COLUMBUS — Operation of the Federal government during the fiscal year 1966-67 will cost taxpayers of Pickaway County an estimated $16,237,000 if President Johnson's budget of $112.8 billion submitted to Congress January 24 is enacted into law, according to the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

The statistics also show that Pickaway County's burden may be compared with estimated 1964 store sales of food, apparel, furniture, household appliances and sales made by gasoline stations in the county. This amounts to approximately $14,885,000.

Estimated cost to Ohioans-at-large of the Federal spending program proposed by the President would be $6,181,440,000, Ohio Chamber president Ralph R. Baldenhofer said.

The estimate of Ohioans' share of the Federal budget is based on information of the Ohio Chamber Taxation and Research Department showing that Ohio taxpayers pay 5.48 per cent of the total Federal tax burden.

Baldenhofer expressed the Chamber's regret that the Johnson Administration had not seen fit to cut back the overall level of nondefense spending in fiscal 1966 and 1967 in order to offset at least partly the rising cost of the Vietnam War. By way of illustrating the huge budget increase, he observed that since last year the Ohio retail sales comparison moved up only some $100 million, whereas the new budget carries a $700 million federal cost increase for Ohioans over last year's original budget.

Noting that Great Society programs and other nondefense outlays account for a substantial part of the revised budget increase in 1966 and still a further increase in 1967, Baldenhofer said the Chamber will urge Congress to reduce requested appropriations for existing nondefense programs and to reject all proposals for initiation of new programs. The organization views tighter expenditure control as essential to preventing an overheated economy and inflation.

Some Research Dogs Don't Live 'Dog's Life' - They're Pampered

Editor's Note: Following is the second in a series of two articles on the use of dogs in medical research.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dog is one of man's best friends in medical research and he often gets better than an average dog's life out of it.

Dogs are playing important roles every day in developing new medical practices to save human lives. Cutting off the supply of dogs for research, one investigator said, would mean "in the long run less progress for the American people."

Some of the animals used in medical research don't lead a dog's life, either, but are better housed and better fed than many a household pet.

A good research dog may cost up to $100.

Getting them is such a problem some institutions are raising their own. Ohio State University is considering an "animal farm" to raise and house dogs and other animals for medical research. Such a farm might cost half a million dollars.

Most laboratories would prefer to buy dogs from commercial sources, the way they buy white mice, guinea pigs or monkeys. Generally, they are not available.

"No one is producing them in any quantity at all," says one researcher.

Dog pounds are the most frequent source now, but strays really aren't the most desirable for medical investigation. And there is always the chance of getting a family pet from a pound, although most laboratories try to avoid this.

"We try to be pretty careful about it," says Dr. Arnold E. Stilson, veterinarian in charge of research animals at Ohio State University. "This necessarily restricts the number of quality animals which we can make available to our investigators."

Still a pet now and then slips into research use. One did in Licking County recently, though a commercial dog dealer, leading county commissioners to end an arrangement which sent unwanted dogs to the dealer.

Another instance led to a proposal for federal regulation of such research animals, regulation the medical investigators say would hurt progress.

Even the best pound dogs

usually are not suited for research without "conditioning," with proper food and medical treatment to rid them of disease and insects.

Even the "cleanest" dog from a pound is an unknown quantity for a researcher, since there is no way to trace its parentage. Ideally, a researcher should know the genetic background of a dog, since some inherited quality might affect his research.

Using dogs from pounds also prohibits duplicating an experiment. The researcher has no way to get another animal of almost identical background and breeding to repeat a study.

Dogs from commercial sources are expensive, $50 to $100. Even dogs bought from pounds at $3 each may represent an investment of $50 or $60 by the time they are conditioned and ready for research.

One source estimated a university animal farm might produce top-quality research animals for about $85 each.

Dogs are used in all sorts of experiments by medical researchers. About 500 dogs were used, for instance, in one laboratory in developing a heart-lung machine for human use.

Some are used in experiments to develop new surgical techniques, such as kidney and liver transplants. Many of these are killed or die during experimentation.

But other dogs live for years, well-fed and housed in neat, clean kennels. For testing a new drug often required long observation — three or four years.

An "animal farm" offers better facilities for such dogs, as well as housing for baboons and other animals used in medical studies. It might provide veterinarians with a chance to study heredity in dogs and, in Ohio State's case, would offer veterinary students practical experience in dealing with animal ailments.

Proposals to restrict sale and shipment of animals for laboratories, an Ohio State spokesman said, would "tend to restrict medical research, tend to thwart it, tend to slow it down."

Dog stealers "should be put out of business," says Dr. Richard L. Meiling, dean of Ohio State's medical school. But he expressed fear research programs might be damaged by overly restrictive laws limiting use of dogs and other animals by laboratories.

Life Term Faces Marion Man in Triangle Slaying

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Roy Debo may spend the rest of his life in prison because he tried to pick up the threads of a youthful romance interrupted when he began 20 years of Army service—and murder ensued.

The veteran of World War II European combat and Korea, where he earned more battle stars, was convicted of first-degree murder Wednesday night. The victim was Kramer H. Bowden, 40, the man his teen-age sweetheart married two years after Debo went away.

The jury recommended mercy and Judge Paul D. Smith pronounced the mandatory life sentence for the June 29, 1965, fatal shooting at a rural crossroads southwest of here.

Three days of testimony developed that Debo, now 43, came back upon Army retirement in 1964 and began courting the girl he'd left behind—now Mrs. Bowden and a mother of five children. Her husband was a Marion factory employee.

At the defendant's side during the trial was his own wife—like Mrs. Bowden named Ruth—whom he married in 1949.

In Debo's lap when the jury filed in after two hours, 40 minutes of deliberation was his daughter, Judy, 11.

The verdict was read. Judy cried, "Daddy, I don't want them to take you! You can't go! Mommy, they're going to send daddy away—they can't take him!"—then uncontrollable sobs.

Debo took the stand Wednesday and gave an account of the slaying aimed at supporting his plea of innocent on grounds he shot in self-defense.

A Marion auto repair shop operator the brief time he has been back, Debo related that Bowden had threatened him with bodily harm on several occasions. Bowden had warned him to stay away from Mrs. Bowden, who earlier testified she had gone out with Debo several times in the months before the killing.

The evening of the shooting, Debo testified, he was driving past the Bowden home near La Rue when he heard the screech of tires on gravel behind him. It was Bowden, he said, whose auto forced his own car off the narrow country road, then stopped alongside.

Debo said Bowden screamed

at him, cursing and saying "I've got you now—I'm going to kill you!" before jumping out of his car.

Debo also alighted and, he said, Bowden ran toward him with upraised fist. The old soldier said he drew a gun and fired a warning shot into the ground but Bowden kept coming and he shot him through the heart.

Testimony from Minors Said Needed

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Requiring testimony from minors charged with liquor law violations, and their parents, would be "the greatest single improvement in the administration and enforcement of Ohio's liquor laws," Liquor Director Donald D. Cook said Wednesday.

Cook made the statement in a speech prepared for a session of the Ohio Juvenile Court Judges Association during their annual convention here.

He made a second proposal—that minors charged with violations and their parents be required to appear promptly in juvenile court.

Cook said that minors should be required to testify, as a condition of probation, against liquor permit holders charged with violations. This testimony, he said, should be given in local courts when a permit holder faces criminal charges, or before the Liquor Control Commission in civil actions against the license holder.

Lack of testimony from minors and their parents, he said, has often made prosecution of permit holders, charged with liquor law violations, impossible.

Cook praised the judges for their past cooperation, and pledged a continued and intensified struggle to curb the teenage drinking problem.

Getting them is such a problem some institutions are raising their own. Ohio State University is considering an "animal farm" to raise and house dogs and other animals for medical research. Such a farm might cost half a million dollars.

Most laboratories would prefer to buy dogs from commercial sources, the way they buy white mice, guinea pigs or monkeys. Generally, they are not available.

"No one is producing them in any quantity at all," says one researcher.

Dog pounds are the most frequent source now, but strays really aren't the most desirable for medical investigation. And there is always the chance of getting a family pet from a pound, although most laboratories try to avoid this.

"We try to be pretty careful about it," says Dr. Arnold E. Stilson, veterinarian in charge of research animals at Ohio State University. "This necessarily restricts the number of quality animals which we can make available to our investigators."

Still a pet now and then slips into research use. One did in Licking County recently, though a commercial dog dealer, leading county commissioners to end an arrangement which sent unwanted dogs to the dealer.

Another instance led to a proposal for federal regulation of such research animals, regulation the medical investigators say would hurt progress.

Even the best pound dogs

usually are not suited for research without "conditioning," with proper food and medical treatment to rid them of disease and insects.

Even the "cleanest" dog from a pound is an unknown quantity for a researcher, since there is no way to trace its parentage. Ideally, a researcher should know the genetic background of a dog, since some inherited quality might affect his research.

Using dogs from pounds also prohibits duplicating an experiment. The researcher has no way to get another animal of almost identical background and breeding to repeat a study.

Dogs from commercial sources are expensive, $50 to $100. Even dogs bought from pounds at $3 each may represent an investment of $50 or $60 by the time they are conditioned and ready for research.

One source estimated a university animal farm might produce top-quality research animals for about $85 each.

Dogs are used in all sorts of experiments by medical researchers. About 500 dogs were used, for instance, in one laboratory in developing a heart-lung machine for human use.

Some are used in experiments to develop new surgical techniques, such as kidney and liver transplants. Many of these are killed or die during experimentation.

But other dogs live for years, well-fed and housed in neat, clean kennels. For testing a new drug often required long observation — three or four years.

An "animal farm" offers better facilities for such dogs, as well as housing for baboons and other animals used in medical studies. It might provide veterinarians with a chance to study heridity in dogs and, in Ohio State's case, would offer veterinary students practical experience in dealing with animal ailments.

Proposals to restrict sale and shipment of animals for laboratories, an Ohio State spokesman said, would "tend to restrict medical research, tend to thwart it, tend to slow it down."

Dog stealers "should be put out of business," says Dr. Richard L. Meiling, dean of Ohio State's medical school. But he expressed fear research programs might be damaged by overly restrictive laws limiting use of dogs and other animals by laboratories.

Life Term Faces Marion Man in Triangle Slaying

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Roy Debo may spend the rest of his life in prison because he tried to pick up the threads of a youthful romance interrupted when he began 20 years of Army service—and murder ensued.

The veteran of World War II European combat and Korea, where he earned more battle stars, was convicted of first-degree murder Wednesday night. The victim was Kramer H. Bowden, 40, the man his teen-age sweetheart married two years after Debo went away.

The jury recommended mercy and Judge Paul D. Smith pronounced the mandatory life sentence for the June 29, 1965, fatal shooting at a rural crossroads southwest of here.

Three days of testimony developed that Debo, now 43, came back upon Army retirement in 1964 and began courting the girl he'd left behind—now Mrs. Bowden and a mother of five children. Her husband was a Marion factory employee.

At the defendant's side during the trial was his own wife—like Mrs. Bowden named Ruth—whom he married in 1949.

In Debo's lap when the jury filed in after two hours, 40 minutes of deliberation was his daughter, Judy, 11.

The verdict was read. Judy cried, "Daddy, I don't want them to take you! You can't go! Mommy, they're going to send daddy away — they can't take him!" — then uncontrollable sobs.

Debo took the stand Wednesday and gave an account of the slaying aimed at supporting his plea of innocent on grounds he shot in self-defense.

A Marion auto repair shop operator the brief time he has been back, Debo related that Bowden had threatened him with bodily harm on several occasions. Bowden had warned him to stay away from Mrs. Bowden, who earlier testified she had gone out with Debo several times in the months before the killing.

The evening of the shooting, Debo testified, he was driving past the Bowden home near La Rue when he heard the screech of tires on gravel behind him. It was Bowden, he said, whose auto forced his own car off the narrow country road, then stopped alongside.

Debo said Bowden screamed

at him, cursing and saying "I've got you now—I'm going to kill you!" before jumping out of his car.

Debo also alighted and, he said, Bowden ran toward him with upraised fist. The old soldier said he drew a gun and fired a warning shot into the ground but Bowden kept coming and he shot him through the heart.

Testimony from Minors Said Needed

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Requiring testimony from minors charged with liquor law violations, and their parents, would be "the greatest single improvement in the administration and enforcement of Ohio's liquor laws," Liquor Director Donald D. Cook said Wednesday.

Cook made the statement in a speech prepared for a session of the Ohio Juvenile Court Judges Association during their annual convention here.

He made a second proposal—that minors charged with violations and their parents be required to appear promptly in juvenile court.

Cook said that minors should be required to testify, as a condition of probation, against liquor permit holders charged with violations. This testimony, he said, should be given in local courts when a permit holder faces criminal charges, or before the Liquor Control Commission in civil actions against the license holder.

Lack of testimony from minors and their parents, he said, has often made prosecution of permit holders, charged with liquor law violations, impossible.

Cook praised the judges for their past cooperation, and pledged a continued and intensified struggle to curb the teenage drinking problem.

Cop Helps Motorist, Then Arrests Him

LA PORTE, Iowa (AP) — Police Chief Harold Burch stopped to help a motorist whose car had overheated and stalled. They were putting water in the radiator when Burch heard on his police car radio the report of a car stolen in nearby Waterloo.

Burch checked the license number of the car on which he was working. It was the one reported stolen. He arrested the motorist.

How To File Your 1965 Return

Specific Rules Apply on Relatives Listed as Income Tax Dependents

EDITOR'S NOTE — It's not only children who may be claimed as dependents in making out your federal income tax — but specific rules apply as to how much money relatives can make and still be listed. This article, the fourth of five, explains the requirements.

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Each dependent you can claim on your 1965 income tax return means a $600 exemption off your income. A dependent could be your child, parent, some other relative, or a friend.

A wife is not a dependent. Husband-wife exemptions, explained earlier in this series, vary by age. But exemptions for a dependent, under or over 65, is a flat $600. There is no extra exemption for blindness.

One test of whether you can claim a person as a dependent is this: Did you contribute more than half his support in 1965? Hereafter, to save space, it will be referred to as the test.

You can claim your child as a dependent if he was born or died in 1965, but not a stillborn child, if you met the test in that part of the year in which the child lived.

You can claim your child, stepchild or adopted child, under or over 19, if he had less than $600 income and you met the test.

If your under-19 child had $600 or more income, he'll have to file a return and take his own $600 exemption there, as does everyone with that much income, but if you met the test you could claim him as an exemption on your return without including his income.

But if your child 19 or over had $600 or more income you could not claim him as a dependent, even though you had met the test, unless he was a full-time student.

If he was a full-time student, he'll file his own return on his $600 or more income, taking his own exemption, but if you met the support test you could claim him as a dependent with listing his income.

Your child would not be considered a full-time student if he had a regular full-time job and went to night school, or took correspondence courses. If your child won a scholarship, that wouldn't count in deciding whether you had met the support test.

But, in the case of a married child who filed a joint return with his or her spouse, you couldn't claim an exemption even though you had met the support test for that child.

You can't claim a paid servant in your home as a dependent. But you could claim a friend or foster parent if he lived in your home a full year, got more than half his support from you, and did not have as much as $600 income of his own. You can also claim the following relatives as dependents if you met the support test and they did not have $600 or more taxable income:

Your grandchild, great-grandchild, and so on; brother, sister, half-brother, half-sister; parent, grandparent, great-grandparent or other direct ancestor; step-mother or step-father; aunt or uncle, meaning a brother or sister of your mother or father; niece or nephew, meaning a son or daughter of your brother or sister; father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law.

Neither death nor divorce ends any of the above relationships. Example: if you meet the support test you can continue to claim your father-in-law as a dependent even though your wife is dead or divorced.

Suppose one of the relatives listed above had, say, $700 in nontaxable income, like Social Security payments. Could you claim him as a dependent? Yes, if you met the support test.

There'd be no question if that dependent banked the nontaxable income and didn't use it to live on. If he spent some or all of it to help support himself, you'd have to decide whether your help was more than half his support.

Remember: If such a relative had taxable income of $600 or more, he'd have to file his own return and you couldn't claim him as a dependent, even though you had met the support test.

If a dependent died in 1965 but you paid more than half his support during the part of the year in which he lived, you could claim him as a dependent and take a $600 exemption for him, provided he did not have $600 or more taxable income of his own. Next: Deductible expenses.

Ohio Radio Ham Aids In Getting Medicine

COIMBRA, Portugal (AP)—Ham radio operator Clifton G. Gerbert of Hudson, Ohio, heard on his set there that Coimbra doctors were seeking the drug methotrexate and helped save two women suffering Hodgkins disease. So did several amateur radio buffs in Europe.

Packages of the drug arrived from Dr. Hugh Neely of Douglaston, N. Y. whom Gerbert contacted, and from France, Belgium and Italy. The drug was given the victims and Wednesday they were reported out of immediate danger.

Weather Gear Frozen

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Gerald Shook, who takes the readings on the weather at Russellville, ran into a problem that stopped him cold. His instruments were frozen.

At the next regular meeting Feb. 3, the apple muffin baking contest will be held. The recipe to be used is in the September issue of the Ohio State Grange Monthly. Members are asked to bring sandwiches to be served along with the muffins for refreshments at the close of the meeting.

A skit, "The Tatter Family", was presented with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reid, Harold Furniss, Mrs. Francis Furniss, Peggy and Wendy Neff and Mrs. Kenneth Reid taking part. Mrs. Paul Dawson conducted a fortune contest, in which all members present took part and the program closed with group singing, "Count Your Blessings."

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dawson and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shell.

At the next regular meeting Feb. 3, the apple muffin baking contest will be held. The recipe to be used is in the September issue of the Ohio State Grange Monthly. Members are asked to bring sandwiches to be served along with the muffins for refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Entire Class May Take Test Over

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The University of Miami freshman class, now enjoying a semester break, may have to take final exams over because someone swiped a copy of the answers.

The school said Tuesday that a professor's office was broken into, copies of exams stolen and then sold for as much as $40 each.

One spokesman said it was impossible to determine how many students got the answers. Students reported the exams were for courses in natural science, social science and humanities — all required freshman courses.

All were multiple-choice questions, designed for computer scoring. Apparently only the natural science material was of value to the exam-peddlers. They failed to get the question sheets for the other two courses and without them the answers were useless.

"The reaction of all the students who take their tests honestly would naturally be, 'This is unfair,' and I'd tend to feel the same way," a university official said. "But, what else can we do?"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Each dependent you can claim on your 1965 income tax return means a $600 exemption off your income. A dependent could be your child, parent, some other relative, or a friend.

A wife is not a dependent. Husband-wife exemptions, explained earlier in this series, vary by age. But exemptions for a dependent, under or over 65, is a flat $600. There is no extra exemption for blindness.

One test of whether you can claim a person as a dependent is this: Did you contribute more than half his support in 1965? Hereafter, to save space, it will be referred to as the test.

You can claim your child as a dependent if he was born or died in 1965, but not a stillborn child, if you met the test in that part of the year in which the child lived.

You can claim your child, stepchild or adopted child, under or over 19, if he had less than $600 income and you met the test.

If your under-19 child had $600 or more income, he'll have to file a return and take his own $600 exemption there, as does everyone with that much income, but if you met the test you could claim him as an exemption on your return without including his income.

But if your child 19 or over had $600 or more income you could not claim him as a dependent, even though you had met the test, unless he was a full-time student.

If he was a full-time student, he'll file his own return on his $600 or more income, taking his own exemption, but if you met the support test you could claim him as a dependent with listing his income.

Your child would not be considered a full-time student if he had a regular full-time job and went to night school, or took correspondence courses. If your child won a scholarship, that wouldn't count in deciding whether you had met the support test.

But, in the case of a married child who filed a joint return with his or her spouse, you couldn't claim an exemption even though you had met the support test for that child.

You can't claim a paid servant in your home as a dependent. But you could claim a friend or foster parent if he lived in your home a full year, got more than half his support from you, and did not have as much as $600 income of his own. You can also claim the following relatives as dependents if you met the support test and they did not have $600 or more taxable income:

Your grandchild, great-grandchild, and so on: brother, sister, half-brother, half-sister; parent, grandparent, great-grandparent or other direct ancestor; step-mother or step-father; aunt or uncle, meaning a brother or sister of your mother or father; niece or nephew, meaning a son or daughter of your brother or sister; father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law.

Neither death nor divorce ends any of the above relationships. Example: if you meet the support test you can continue to claim your father-in-law as a dependent even though your wife is dead or divorced.

Suppose one of the relatives listed above had, say, $700 in nontaxable income, like Social Security payments. Could you claim him as a dependent? Yes, if you met the support test.

There'd be no question if that dependent banked the nontaxable income and didn't use it to live on. If he spent some or all of it to help support himself, you'd have to decide whether your help was more than half his support.

Remember: If such a relative had taxable income of $600 or more, he'd have to file his own return and you couldn't claim him as a dependent, even though you had met the support test.

If a dependent died in 1965 but you paid more than half his support during the part of the year in which he lived, you could claim him as a dependent and take a $600 exemption for him, provided he did not have $600 or more taxable income of his own. Next: Deductible expenses.

Ohio Radio Ham Aids In Getting Medicine

COIMBRA, Portugal (AP) — Ham radio operator Clifton G. Gerbert of Hudson, Ohio, heard on his set there that Coimbra doctors were seeking the drug methotrexate and helped save two women suffering Hodgkins disease. So did several amateur radio buffs in Europe.

Packages of the drug arrived from Dr. Hugh Neely of Douglaston, N. Y., whom Gerbert contacted, and from France, Belgium and Italy. The drug was given the victims and Wednesday they were reported out of immediate danger.

Ohio Honey Output Dips 36 Pct. in '65

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio honey production dipped 36 per cent below 1964 output, the Ohio Crop Reporting Service's figures for 1965 show. The bees being not so busy dropped the state to ninth nationally from fifth the previous year.

A covered dish supper was held at Scioto Grange 6:30 p.m. Jan. 20 in the Scioto School Cafeteria.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dowler were guests for the evening. Dowler showed slides from India and New Zealand, two of the countries visited by the couple on their recent world tour.

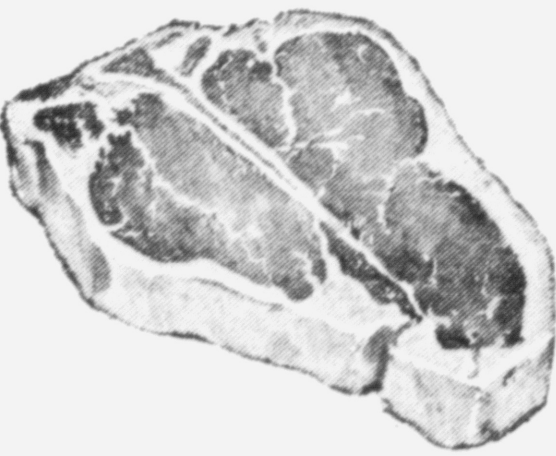

At the next regular meeting Feb. 3, the apple muffin baking contest will be held. The recipe to be used is in the September issue of the Ohio State Grange Monthly. Members are asked to bring sandwiches to be served along with the muffins for refreshments at the close of the meeting.

LINDA GAYLE STUBBS

Westfall High School 1966 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is Linda Gayle Stubbs. She scored highest in a written knowledge and attitude examination taken by senior girls on Dec. 7, 1965, and is now eligible for state and national scholarship awards. Linda has already earned a special award pin from the program's sponsor, General Mills.

Test papers of all school winners in the state are being judged, and a State Homemaker of Tomorrow and runner-up will be selected soon. The State Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 college scholarship, and her school will be awarded a complete set of the Encyclopedia Britannica. The second-ranking girl in the state will receive a $500 educational grant.

Next spring, the State Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow from every state and the District of Columbia, each accompanied by a school adviser, will join in an expense-paid educational tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D. C. Then, the 1966 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be announced at a dinner in Washington. Chosen from state winners on the basis of original test score and personal observation and interviews during the tour, she will have her scholarship increased to $5,000. Second, third and fourth ranking Homemakers of Tomorrow in the nation will be awarded $4,000, $3,000, and $2,000 grants respectively.

The Betty Crocker Search for American Homemaker of Tomorrow was instituted by General Mills in 1954-55 to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career. The program has enrolled 4,627,943 senior girls, with total scholarship grants exceeding $1,261,000. The 570,824 girls and 14,714 schools participating in the 1965-66 search established a new record enrollment.

Preparation of the test and selection of Homemakers of Tomorrow is in the hands of Science Research Associates, Chicago Educational Testing and Publishing Co.

At the January meeting of the Teays Valley Science Club, Mr. Barger of the Bell Telephone Co. demonstrated the uses of the laser beam. He also showed slides on it and gave a short talk on its many uses. Following his remarks was a question-answer period.

The new Science Club pins were given to the members. The by-laws concerning attendance were passed at this time.

The present club project is selling Viking ribbons at the basketball games.

A Mother-Daughter banquet is being planned as the next project.

The most popular programs on the Dahrhan television station in Saudi Arabia would make Americans feel at home, the National Geographic says.

These include wrestling matches and Egyptian movies on the late show. Arabic dialogue is dubbed in on "Bonanza."

Senior members receiving chenille letters for having 500 points or more were Jody Butt, Karen Rife, Linda Cline, Mary Zimmer, Sue Dingus, Ann Peters, Betty Pritchard, Sophie Hoover and Becky Hicks.

The present club project is selling Viking ribbons at the basketball games.

A Mother-daughter banquet is being planned as the next project.

150TH YEAR—This stamp marking Indiana's 150th year will be issued April 16 at Corydon, the state's first capital. It is blue, yellow and brown. The 19 brown stars in the map indicate Indiana as the 19th state.

'Irresponsible' Wage, Price Boosts Hit

President Warns Business, Labor About U.S. Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson warned business and labor today that irresponsible wage-price hikes would jeopardize the nation's strong economy and possibly lead to stiff federal restrictions.

He said in his economic message to Congress that it is "vitaly important" that both unions and industry hew to the line of White House guidposts limiting wage raises to 3.2 per cent with no price hikes.

A blow to labor leaders' hopes in Johnson's message, accompanied by a report of his Council of Economic Advisers, was the failure to boost the guidpost figure to 3.6 per cent in line with latest national production figures.

"I'm sure it has been and will be described as changing the rules in the middle of the game," said council Chairman Gardner Ackley in defending the administration for sticking to the 3.2 per cent figure.

"We don't regard it that way at all," he said at a briefing on the President's economic report.

The guidposts are based on the increase of productivity per man hour, which averaged 3.2 per cent the past five years.

The guidposts state that wages can be raised 3.2 per cent without price increases or larger profit margins for industry.

While conceding that the wage guidpost would be 3.6 per cent if 1965 figures were added and 1960 figures dropped, Ackley said, "We have never been wedded to the five-year rolling average."

He also conceded that previous council reports had used charts based on a moving five-year productivity average, but argued the text of the reports did not state them as a firm policy.

He said productivity gains cannot continue upward indefinitely with industrial production nearing full capacity and that 3.2 per cent was more in line with expected 1966 gains.

The administration's action appeared to grow directly out of a fear of adding inflationary pressures if the guidelines were revised upward.

After five years of a boom that Johnson described as an "American economic miracle," both the President and his economic advisers said the major challenge of 1966 was to operate the economy near full blast without inflation.

All Reasons Said Gone For Lull in Viet Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, a top adviser to President Johnson, says the reasons for continuing the lull in the bombing of North Viet Nam targets are exhausted and "we must keep the pressure on."

His declaration was viewed as one of the strongest indications yet that the United States soon will resume its air strikes.

Taylor, former ambassador to Saigon who now is a presidential consultant on Viet Nam, was at the President's side Tuesday night during a top-level White House meeting with congressional leaders.

Less than 24 hours later, Taylor told a New York news conference that he felt the bombing pause was justified "in spite of the obvious military disadvantages."

"We have shown friends and foes the sincerity of our peaceful purposes," he said.

"But the reasons for continuing it are exhausted," he said.

He said, "We must keep the pressure on until the other side decides that there is no chance of our breaking."

Earlier in Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said on Capitol Hill that the United States has carried its peace efforts "from A to Z and almost through Z."

Bliss Ranked Sixth Most Popular GOPster

WASHINGTON (AP)—A popularity poll by the Capitol Hill Club places GOP National Committee Chairman Ray Bliss of Ohio as the sixth most popular Republican figure.

The club, an organization of Republicans in and out of Congress, polled 1,700 party members in 27 states and found Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois easily the most popular. Next in order came Richard M. Nixon Rep. Gerald R. Ford, New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, Mich. Gov. George Romney and Bliss.

Use The Classifieds

Democratic Senate Leader Mike Mansfield, who has opposed renewal of air attacks on North Viet Nam targets, credited the President with having accomplished at the Tuesday night meeting the kind of consultation with Congress that some critics have been demanding.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who wants the bombing pause extended, and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who has taken no position on the matter, have urged such consultations.

"Everyone present was invited and encouraged to give his views," Mansfield said in an interview. "This was consultation in the best sense, not just briefing. The President took under consideration everything that was said. We were in at the takeoff in the formulation of a vital decision."

Dirksen added, in a separate interview, that "it was the kind of consultation" he advocates "and we should have them more often."

Army Chow Is Too Good For This GI

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Merrill W. Plaskow II, who got into the Army by losing 130 pounds, is fighting the second biggest battle of his life.

Army chow.

Plaskow, who grew fat on his family's Philadelphia chain of luncheonettes, is beginning to feel renewed tugs at his belt.

"Army food is really very good," says Plaskow, trying to hold the line at a svelte 185.

"But the other day I got up to 182," he said.

Plaskow, 19, admits a three-pound gain in small potatoes for a confirmed chow hound who ballooned to 322 pounds a year ago.

Plaskow tried to enlist in the Army last February but was classified 4-F. A recruiting sergeant told him to come back when he weighed 196 pounds.

Plaskow told him, "I'll see you in October."

The youth wanted to join because he wanted to do something to counteract the draft card burning and other student demonstrations in protest of U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

Plaskow showed up at the Philadelphia Army recruiting office eight months later, minus 130 pounds. He was inducted.

Keeping his weight at a healthy level "is a constant battle," he says. He eats only breakfast, has a light snack for lunch and eats no dinner.

Cincy Firm Has 'Adopted' Viet Platoon

CINCINNATI (AP)—There's a platoon of the 9th Marine Regiment in South Viet Nam that has a lot of friends in Cincinnati.

The friends: Employees of Burgoyne Index, Inc., a marketing research firm, who take up a collection each month to send gifts to the men of Weapons Platoon, "G" Company of the regiment's Second Battalion.

"Each month our employees donate whatever amount of money they choose," said William J. Masterson, president of the firm.

"At the end of each month, the total amount is used to purchase such essential items as toothpaste, soap, combs, shaving cream, candy, etc. A package is immediately forwarded to our adopted unit, where the items are distributed among the men.

"It's one small way that we at Burgoyne can participate in the current effort and let these men know the people at home are appreciative of what's being done," he added.

Great Lakes Basin Pact OK Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Great Lakes Basin Compact of eight states including Ohio would have congressional consent under a bill introduced by Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis. The compact was established in 1955 through interstate agreement.

Reuss' measure states the purpose of the compact is to promote orderly, integrated and comprehensive development use and conservation of the basin's water resources. The members have designated the Great Lakes Commission as their joint research and advisory agency on Great Lakes water programs and problems.

And, says Prof. Harold Feldman of the State College of Home Economics, married women are becoming more talkative and aggressive. Feldman said similar research will have to be done in other parts of the country to produce a representative picture.

Cincy Firm Has 'Adopted' Viet Platoon

CINCINNATI (AP)—There's a platoon of the 9th Marine Regiment in South Viet Nam that has a lot of friends in Cincinnati.

The friends: Employees of Burgoyne Index, Inc., a marketing research firm, who take up a collection each month to send gifts to the men of Weapons Platoon, "G" Company of the regiment's Second Battalion.

"Each month our employees donate whatever amount of money they choose," said William J. Masterson, president of the firm.

"At the end of each month, the total amount is used to purchase such essential items as toothpaste, soap, combs, shaving cream, candy, etc. A package is immediately forwarded to our adopted unit, where the items are distributed among the men.

"It's one small way that we at Burgoyne can participate in the current effort and let these men know the people at home are appreciative of what's being done," he added.

Great Lakes Basin Pact OK Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Great Lakes Basin Compact of eight states including Ohio would have congressional consent under a bill introduced by Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis. The compact was established in 1955 through interstate agreement.

Reuss' measure states the purpose of the compact is to promote orderly, integrated and comprehensive development and conservation of the basin's water resources. The members have designated the Great Lakes Commission as their joint research and advisory agency on Great Lakes water programs and problems.

Researcher Claims Married Men Mellow

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—A Cornell University researcher who studied 800 married couples in Syracuse says married men are becoming quieter, meeker and less demanding.

And, says Prof. Harold Feldman of the State College of Home Economics, married women are becoming more talkative and aggressive. Feldman said similar research will have to be done in other parts of the country to produce a representative picture.

Tax Receipts Still Show Increase Here

Sales tax collections have continued to increase in Pickaway County, according to a report from the office of John D. Herbert, state treasurer.

Receipts for the two-week period ending Jan. 22 were $13,773.86 compared to $10,487.28 received one year ago during a similar period.

The total collected for the fiscal year is now $196,028.57. The total for the first seven months of the 1964-65 fiscal year was $192,368.04. During the initial six months of the current fiscal year, collections lagged behind those of a year ago.

However, during January, receipts have shown a marked increase.

Motor vehicle tax collections of $10,416.77 bring the total for the year to $163,136.06. This compares to a two-week collection of $10,816.83 a year ago and a total of $146,283.16.

Motorist Fined For Failure To Display License

Bruce Everman, 19, Grayson, Ky., was fined $25 and costs in Circleville Municipal Court Wednesday for failure to display license tags on a motor vehicle he was operating.

Other motorists listed on the court docket were:

William Cottrell, 20, West Portsmouth; $24 bond forfeiture for driving an unsafe motor vehicle.

John Strawser, 54, Grove City and Bonnie Sue Smith, 24, Union, Ky.; $19 bond forfeitures for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

P. W. Johnson, 23, Canal Winchester; $26 bond forfeiture for speeding 77 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

All fined persons were cited by the Ohio State Highway Patrol.

Taxman Says Taxpayers Losing Lots of Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service, citing $239 million it returned to taxpayers last year, again has urged citizens to read the instructions carefully before filling out their tax forms.

The service said the $239 million was overpaid by taxpayers who failed to claim allowable exemptions and deductible expenses, or used the wrong tax tables. Others simply made costly errors in arithmetic.

Teays Must Win At PV To Stay In Cage Race

Teays Valley faces a "last chance" situation Friday at Pleasant View High School. The Russ Gregg coached Vikings must win in order to share the South Suburban League basketball title.

The Pleasant View Panthers are undefeated in South Suburban play and have only one game remaining. A win for them tomorrow clinches a piece of the crown.

Teays Valley lost to Pleasant View, 47-40, in the opening game of the league. The tilt was played on the Viking hardwood.

Against Franklin Heights, the Vikings were an easy 68-46 winner and against Hamilton Twp. they rolled to a 76-55 decision.

ALL FIVE of the Teays Valley starters are averaging more than 10 points per game, beginning with Gary Wilson who has been scoring at a clip of 10.2 per tilt.

Gayle Fosnough, Wilson's running mate at forward, has tossed in 143 in 13 tilts for an average of 11.

Rod Teets, the 6-4 center for Gregg, has an average of 11.1. The two Viking backcourt men, Gerald Green and Butch Kinsell, lead the team in scoring. Green is averaging just over 12 points per tilt and Kinsell 13.5.

In addition to scoring, this pair of guards also leads the team in assists.

Teays Valley has won seven and lost six games this season.

COACH Bo Bricks of Pleasant View — the Panthers have a 9-3 record — thinks his team will be ready this week. Jim

Palmer Seen Advancing at Faster Pace

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Golf's leading money winner of all time, Arnold Palmer, opened play today in the $55,000 Lucky International Open after starting 1966 faster than any other year in his remarkable pro career.

Arnie won low pro honors in the pro-amateur prelude over the Harding Park municipal course to push his January earnings to $20,750.

Not a bad start for a fellow who many thought on the down grade when he placed only 10th on the money list in 1965 with $57,770 in official winnings and $82,989 over-all.

Today Palmer left the tee among the late starters for this first round of San Francisco's 72-hole event with its $7,500 top prize.

He had whipped around Harding in 65 Wednesday followed by a big gallery and playing with three amateur partners who helped him to a 56 in the team play, tied for second with a group headed by George Bayer, who individually had a 70.

Don Massengale, who hung on to beat Arnie by a stroke last Sunday at the Crosby, also found Harding to his liking in the pro-am and posted a 67. So did Randy Glover and Billy Maxwell.

Gus Niarhos, former major league catcher will manage Modesto in the California League during 1966.

Hecker Gets Atlanta Post

Packer Aide Set To Guide New '11'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The new head coach of the Atlanta Falcons sometimes goes by the name of J. Jones.

By now, those interested in National Football League affairs know that the Falcons' man is Norb Hecker.

He used the name 'J. Jones' to keep secret Falcon owner Rankin Smith's selection of a new head coach.

Hecker said that he feels Atlanta has some top players on its roster, "and with the 42 players we will get from the other teams I believe we will have pretty good talent."

The former Baldwin-Wallace College star, who played half-back for the Los Angeles Rams and the Washington Redskins before a knee injury ended his NFL career in 1957, said he will first build a strong defense with the Falcons.

"You can't win in the NFL without a good defense," said Hecker, who has been defensive backfield coach for the Packers. "And it is easier to build a defense than an offense."

Hecker has been considered one of Packer Coach Vince Lombardi's top aides. But he lacks Lombardi's brooding intensity and is slow to anger.

"Norb has all the qualifications of a paragon," Lombardi said. "He is a very fine young gentleman, highly intelligent and with a fine personality. He is extremely loyal and one of the finest workers I have ever seen on my staff."

Lombardi, who recommended Hecker for the Atlanta coaching post, said he didn't know his former aide's coaching policy. "He's been coaching with mine and now he'll have to coach with his own," said Lombardi.

Circleville Cagers To Play In Bailiwick of SCO Leader

Circleville's basketball team travels to Wilmington Friday for a South Suburban League tilt.

The Hurricane is firmly entrenched in first place in the league, undefeated in six games.

The defensively powerful cagers from Clinton County have a win skein of nine consecutive games going for them. They have tasted defeat only once this year — by Oak Hills of the Cincinnati area.

Chuck Hill's "up and down" Tigers have had trouble breaking into the win column this season. They show only two wins against 10 losses.

AGAINST Westfall, the Tigers played one of the best games of the season, actually leading by five points with less than two minutes to play. But late turnovers on the part of Circleville gave the Mustangs the opportunity needed for a 56-55 win.

The night before, at Greenfield, a good defensive performance by the host team limited Circleville to 47 points.

However, the low scoring effort for the Tigers this season came on Dec. 10 when a visiting Wilmington team held CHS to a scant 32 points. Nobody cracked the double figure scoring column for Circleville in that game.

To date, Jimmy Diltz with 191 markers is pacing the Circleville offense. His scoring average is just under 16 points per tilt.

Tim Stonerock, who missed two games after Christmas vacation due to an ankle injury, is hitting the nets at a 16.1 clip.

Circleville's center, Danny Speakman, 5-11, missed the first two games of the season, then averaged just over nine points a tilt for the next eight encounters. But he has been held scoreless in the last two cage tests.

JOE WINNER has notched 89 points and Danny Gibbs a total of 78.

Mike Martindill, the diminutive Tiger guard, has been constantly improving and has been seeing considerable action recently.

Wilmington has six players capable of double figure performances. Jim Conner, with an average of 13 per game, is currently the team leader.

Wilmington's Al Burger coaches a disciplined style of basketball. Always strong defensively, the offense is just beginning to reach its peak.

In John Petty, a 6-3 sophomore, the Hurricane has a sixth man who frequently comes off the bench to provide an added scoring punch.

Wilmington owns wins over four Dayton area teams.

ELSEWHERE around the league this weekend, Miami Trace will host an improving Greenfield McClain team and Hillsboro is at Washington C.H. Against Circleville, Greenfield started four sophomores and a junior.

Saturday's non league schedule finds Greenfield McClain playing at Waverly in the only tilt slated.

The consultants also will recommend that voters be asked to approve a special tax levy of two mills at the May primary to pay for the structure, the newspaper said.

The stadium would be used by the Cincinnati Reds baseball team and by a National Football League franchise, which the city is seeking.

Maketewah Country Club is approximately 15 minutes from downtown and is easily accessible for Interstates 71 and 75.

Next Wednesday is the deadline to get a special tax on the primary ballot. It first would have to be approved by the Hamilton County commissioners. Joseph Decourey, commissioners' president, said he would not have any comment until he has seen the full report.

George Fee, attorney for Maketewah, has said the club grounds are worth at least $4 million. No formal offer has been made for the purchase. If an agreement price could not be reached, the city could exercise the right of eminent domain to take immediate possession and argue it in court later.

THE Enquirer said two consulting firms that have been studying possible sites and financing means will recommend to the city's Stadium Steering Committee next Tuesday that it try to purchase the country club land.

Baylor Sparkles In Laker Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The chronic knee trouble of Elgin Baylor, sufficiently serious to bench the Los Angeles sharpshooter earlier in the season, didn't seem to give him any trouble Wednesday night.

Baylor and Jerry West combined for the one-two punch in the Lakers 126-110 defeat of the Detroit Pistons in the nightcap of a National Basketball Association doubleheader in Detroit.

The New York Knicks spurred to a strong finish in the opener, downing the San Francisco Warriors 115-103 in the night's only other NBA game.

Caz Russell Seen Key to New Team

CHICAGO (AP) — The hopes of Chicago's entry in the National Basketball Association for next season undoubtedly rest with the possible acquisition of home-towner Cazzie Russell, the All-America at Michigan.

Chicago twice before has failed to make a go in the NBA, but Wednesday it was given another chance by the league's board of governor in New York.

They voted to expand to 10 team with the new franchise awarded to a Chicago group headed by Dick Klein, former basketball player at Northwestern and with the old Chicago Bears pro team of the 1940s, and now head of his own sales promotion company.

Russell could become the hub of the team and kingpin of its promotion.

Cazzie reportedly said in Ann Arbor, Mich., Wednesday night: "Several people interested in a franchise for Chicago have talked to me. I am inquisitive about what the outcome will be. It will be a tougher decision about me playing in Chicago than a lot of people think."

The last time Chicago made a run for it in the NBA was 1961. The team was first called the Packers and then the Zephyrs, and moved to Baltimore in 1963. Prior to that were the Stags who lasted from 1946 to 1950.

Westbury, N.Y. (AP) — Proximity, considered harness racing's greatest trotting mare at the time of her retirement in 1951, was destroyed humanely at the Castleton Farm in Lexington, Ky. Wednesday after she had suffered a broken hip in an accident.

Gordon Verhurst, son of Ralph Verhurst, the mare's owner, received word of the mare's death in a phone call to Roosevelt Raceway here where he is the presiding judge.

Verhurst said that three veterinarians agreed that Proximity should be put out of her misery because of her equine old age, 24 years. She was in foal to Diller Hanover at the time of her death.

It was at the old Roosevelt Raceway that Proximity, winner of 99 races in 195 starts and $252,929, scored some of her greatest triumphs.

NL Night Games To Be Increased

CINCINNATI (AP) — Baseball fans in National League cities will see an increased number of games under the lights this year.

The league's 1966 schedule shows 462 night games — compared with 433 last year. Chicago's Wrigley Field is the only ball park without lights so all Cub home games, as in the past, will be daytime affairs.

One of the season's first games under the lights will be the debut of the new Atlanta Braves, who take on Pittsburgh in a home game the night of April 12.

St. Louis, Los Angeles and San Francisco also play their first home games April 12, one day after the season starts at Cincinnati's Crosley Field with a game between the Reds and the New York Mets.

Rhodes To Peddle Cincy Grid Tickets

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes has a new job—chairman of a drive to sell 47,000 season tickets in Cincinnati's bid for a National Football League franchise.

Rhodes accepted the quarterback role Wednesday night when he spoke at the annual meeting of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce.

Baylor Sparkles In Laker Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The chronic knee trouble of Elgin Baylor, sufficiently serious to bench the Los Angeles sharpshooter earlier in the season, didn't seem to give him any trouble Wednesday night.

Baylor and Jerry West combined for the one-two punch in the Lakers 128-110 defeat of the Detroit Pistons in the nightcap of a National Basketball Association doubleheader in Detroit.

The New York Knicks spurred to a strong finish in the opener, downing the San Francisco Warriors 115-103 in the night's only other NBA game.

Laurelville Set For Weekend Tilts

Laurelville faces a pair of games involving both leagues of which it is a member this weekend.

The Wildcats travel to Wilton Friday in Vinton-Hocking play. Saturday they host Paint Valley in action in the Scioto Valley Conference.

Zane Trace plays at Adena in Ross County league competition Friday, and is not scheduled Saturday.

Miami Chalks 10th Straight Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Miami already has beaten Kent State home and home, but Kent may as well start polishing up its basketball court for another visit from the Redskins.

Miami swept aside Marshall 74-57 Wednesday night for its 10th straight victory, boosting its Mid-American Conference record to 7-0. At the same time, Kent's Golden Flashes were mathematically removed from the MAC title race when visiting Toledo beat them 88-79.

The Redskins now seem a sure thing to be the Mid-Am entry in the NCAA Mid-East Regional Tournament's first round, to be played at Kent in March.

In other Wednesday night Ohio action:
Cincinnati had to struggle to get past pesky St. Joseph's of Indiana 71-66 for the eighth-ranked Bearcats' 14th triumph in 16 contests.

Mount Union brought its Ohio Conference record to 6-1, on the heels of Wooster's 8-1 and Akron's 7-1, by whipping Hiram 77-55 for its 12th straight—while new OC leader Wooster fell an upset victim, at home, 70-65 to Ohio Northern.

Youngstown swamped Buffalo State behind Joe Negro's 36 points. The Penguins are now 12-1.

Rio Grande lost to West Virginia State 84-74.
Frank Lukacs led Miami over Marshall with 21 points and Jerry Peirson contributed 20.

Houston '5' Rates High as Independent

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The University of Houston Cougars have become one of the best independent college basketball teams in the country after losing their first three games of the season.

The Cougars, playing on their home court in Texas, edged Baylor 92-91 in overtime Wednesday night for their sixth straight victory. They now have won 11 of 12 games since their first three defeats by San Francisco, Brigham Young and Texas A&M for an over-all 11-4 record. Their other defeat was by one point to Maryland 69-68.

The Cougars boast a 102-89 victory over the Providence Friars, the lone defeat of the season for the Friars, third, ranked in The Associated Press poll.

The Cougars also own a 72-71 road triumph over the Tulsa Hurricane, the leader in the tough Missouri Valley Conference.

Joe Tamood, whose basket in the last 36 seconds beat Tulsa, was the hero again against Baylor. He beat the Bears with a free throw in the last seven seconds of the extra period. This gave the Cougars a three-point lead and they made no effort to stop Russell Kibbe from scoring a Baylor basket with two seconds left.

Hamood paced the Cougars with 27 points. Darrel Hardy, who forced the overtime with a corner shot in the last 14 seconds to tie the regulation game at 83-83, was high for Baylor with 21.

Eighth-ranked Cincinnati, the only team in the AP Top Ten, to see action, had a hard struggle at home to defeat St. Joseph's College of Indiana, the team which upset the Bearcats a year ago. This time the Bearcats won 71-66, paced by sophomore John Howard's 26 points.

Drake came from behind for a 74-71 road triumph over Iowa State in the 120th renewal of their basketball rivalry. Bob Netolicky, with 16, and Herman Watson and Harold Jeter, with 15 each, combined for 46 points to lead the Bulldogs. Sophomore Don Smith starred in a losing cause with 30 points and 24 rebounds for a single-game Iowa State record.

Bob Aston's 33 points and 25 rebounds helped Toledo eclipse the .500 mark with a rare road success at Kent, where a 26-6 Rocket burst midway in the second half proved decisive.

St. Joe's small-college Pumas, who upset Cincinnati last season, kept the 'Cats working hard all the way this time to avert disaster. But Cincy managed to stay a step ahead throughout, paced by John Howard's 26 points.

Jerry Stechschulte's 27 tallies and Scot turnovers propelled Ohio Northern over Wooster. Mount Union erased a 35-32 Hiram as Craig Erbland scored 25 for the Purple Raiders.
